THIRTY-SEVENTH YEAR

LIMA, OHIO, FRIDAY, AUGUST 25, 1922

PRICE THREE CENTS

GOOD POINTS ARE OUTWEIGHED

Favored by Minority Only, Survey of City Indicates

OFFICIALS CHANGE MINDS

Defeat at Polls Assured if it is Presented

Should daylight saving be taken before the voters at the fall election it will be defeated by a large majority, a survey by The Lima News Friday disclosed. The city has had enough of two times, it is indicated. This will not be due to the fact that the city folk do not like the extra hour in the evening but because of the great inconvenience of two times, Central and Eastern.

Merchants, with scarcely an exception, are against a resumption of this year's conditions next summer. It has proved to be too great a handicap to the buying public from the country and adjoining towns, they say.

Members of the city commission are also certain that it is a mistake to try to operate the city on one time while the railroads and the territory around the city are using another.

Unless it is possible for everybody to move their clocks an hour ahead during the summer and the railroads do likewise, it is a mistake to try to enforce Eastern time in the city, C. A. Bingham says.

While there is no doubt as to the convenience of the latter time to a few during the summer, it is a fact that many inconveniences to many, and an ill feeling has been brought about, city officials say.

Hotels in the city have found it necessary to operate on both Eastern and Central time if they are to accommodate their patrons, a manager of one of the hotels said.

In one hotel there are two clocks one marked "railroad time" and the other "city time." This is the only way it is possible to keep patrons from becoming hopelessly mixed up on the time, he said.

A salesman coming into the city arrives and leaves on Central time, but while here he must regulate his movements by city time or he will not be able to do business, the hotel manager added.

WORKERS BY RAIL MEN
Workers in several industrial plants are agreeable to the Eastern time in the summer. Railroad workers, however, are opposed to the change as it causes them much inconvenience and fails to benefit them.

Members of the city commission voted for the time change because it appeared that the majority of the people were for it. Now that this has been disproved, it is believed the commission will not approve its continuance.

Sentiment in the city at the present time is against daylight saving time and in favor of one time for all Mayor Harold Cunningham said Thursday.

At about example of the trouble caused by the using of two different times was seen at the Allen-co fair, as the fact is a county institution is run on Central time.

W. O. MUST MOVE ITS TRACKS

County Land, Prosecutor's Notice Declares

Demand that tracks of the Western Ohio, which are alleged to be located on county land south of the corporate limits of Bluffton be removed, was prepared for service on traction officials Friday by Prosecuting Attorney Eugene Lippincott.

The notice to vacate all that portion of Inter-County Highway occupied by the tracks will be served by order of the county commissioners.

Paving work on the road between Bluffton and Bluffton has reached a point near the south limits of Bluffton. The company tracks are occupying the right of way for the highway.

County commissioners aver the traction line has no franchise for that section of the road, but are trespassers. The portion occupied by the tracks is required for building the road. They are situated in the center of the proposed paving.

Commissioners want the tracks moved to one side so as to allow traffic a 100 per cent use of the road.

Abandonment of the gas street lights in the city is looked upon with favor not only by the city but by the Lima Natural Gas Co., C. A. Bingham, city manager, said Friday.

That the lights are not satisfactory has been agreed to by both parties and negotiations have been entered into to eliminate them entirely. The present contract runs until 1924, it was stated by Bingham.

All that the gas company asks is that they be placed in a position to have no money thru the giving up of their contract with the city.

LOS ANGELES—Carmel Myers, movie actress, has just filed suit for divorce from Ludore B. Kornblum, attorney and song writer, whom she charges with desertion.

COAL SUPPLY FOR LIMA DELAYED

Failure of Operators and Administration to Agree, Cause.

Failure of coal operators of the state and the state fuel administration to get together has left Lima in the same condition as before, H. L. Breckenridge, fuel administrator, said Friday.

It was desired by the state administration to obtain a supply of coal at a fair price for distribution as needed through the state. It is been impossible for this supply to be obtained, Breckenridge said.

Supplies of coal in amounts worth feeling optimistic about have not materialized, coal dealers in the city say. Until the railroads are operating normally, it will be impossible to procure large amounts of fuel, it is feared.

Many shipments are on the way but are held up at terminals and cannot be moved, dealers say. Several of the dealers have men constantly tracing down shipments.

Prices continue around the levels reported early in the week. Ohio coal is still in great demand because of the lower freight rate and the shorter haul with its consequent smaller possibility for delay.

Coal prices in Western Kentucky have been shaded as much as $1.00 a ton in some cases but the added freight rate and delay in shipment makes the coal unpopular just now.

Fuel oil prices are still high with but little possibility for any decrease at present. Large quantities are in storage in the mid-continent fields, oil men say, but cannot be moved at the present time.

Movements in oil and gasoline prices during the past week have led oil men to believe that the bottom has been seen in crude oil prices and that higher prices are inevitable.

Swedish People Will Then Decide Prohibition Question

STOCKHOLM, Sweden — (Associated Press) — The Swedish people next Sunday will give their decision at the polls for or against prohibition. No election in Sweden ever has caught the public mind as this, which is to be the first on a question submitted under the newly instituted referendum.

The belief prevails that the cabinet will make no move in the direction of prohibition unless 65 per cent of the vote of the men are cast in favor of it. The vote of the men and women cast in the referendum will be counted separately.

Washington Officials Stirred Over Fuel Situation

PITTSBURGH, Pa. — (United Press) — Legal action against participants in the Cleveland coal peace conference has been decided upon by coal interests of Pittsburgh and West Virginia, it was learned here today.

Plans for action to show the Cleveland agreement is a violation of the Sherman anti-trust law were made at a conference here between legal representatives of the Kanawha Valley Coal Operators' association and the Pittsburgh Coal Operators' association.

FUEL SITUATION GRAVE
(BY JAMES T. KOLBERT)
WASHINGTON. — (United Press) — The administration is gravely concerned over the problem of supplying the country's fuel needs this winter.

Privately, administration officials today admitted that a critical situation confronts the country.

To an already difficult situation caused by the coal strike and the exhaustion of coal reserves during the suspension of coal production is added the deadlock in the railroad strike.

Even if the railroad strike were settled today the country could not avoid rationing of coal this winter, it was admitted. The problem is not coal production, but how much coal the railroads can haul, Secretary of Commerce Hoover stated.

A mass of far-reaching bills and resolutions, aiming at government intervention to effect a prompt settlement of the rail and anthracite coal strikes, confronted the senate today.

Foremost was the Walsh resolution authorizing the president to take over the mines immediately.

PLT UP TO HARDING
How seriously the administration regards the situation is indicated in the following paragraph in a letter to President Harding from Hoover on measures for curbing profiteering and better coal distribution during the emergency:

"We are deeply impressed with the fact that due to the almost total exhaustion of coal stocks and the inevitable and growing shortage in transportation that the difficulties of the country will be very great even with the resumption of coal production unless there is legislation enacted that will curb profiteering and will give control to distribution there will be great suffering and difficulties during the period of readjustment."

Now that peace has been restored in many bituminous fields of the country a production of from 9,000,000 to 10,000,000 tons of soft coal weekly is expected for the balance of the coal season ending April 1, 1923. But with railroad stock badly crippled through lack of repairs still distant, the primary problem is how to place $5,500,000 tons of coal weekly in the hands of the public.

Utilities, the essential food industries, industry in general and private homes. Hoover estimated that $5,500,000 represents the weekly minimum requirement of the country from September 1 on.

Fear is felt for the northwest, New England and other sections comparatively far removed from the coal fields. New England's problem is anthracite. The anthracite shortage is 30,000,000 tons. The strike in these fields is deadlocked. Consumers have postponed securing coke and soft coal to take the place of hard coal. Unless the anthracite strike is settled shortly a belated rush for substitute fuel is expected.

LIMA PARTY ENTERTAINED BY PRESIDENT HARDING

WASHINGTON. — (Special) — President and Mrs. Harding entertained at luncheon Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. James W. Halfhill and son, James, and Ed. Maize, all of Lima.

The Halfhills and Maize are on an extended motor tour. Mr. Halfhill has been an intimate friend of the president for many years.

TONG WAR BREAKS AT CLEVELAND

Homes in Chinatown Shot up by Feudists

CLEVELAND. — (United Press) — Tong war between the Hip Sings and the On Leongs, dormant for several months, broke out in Chinatown here early today.

Armed celestials in motor cars sped back and forth thru the district firing fusillades of shots at homes and business establishments of rival tong members.

Windows were shattered and many narrowly escaped injury.

A series of riot calls sent a score of police to the colony but the night riders had disappeared. No casualties were reported.

Police were working on three theories in an attempt to run down the gunmen:

One is that they are New York Hip Sing gunmen here to take the lives of prominent On Leong members as a reprisal for the assassination in New York August 7 of Lou Ko, national president of the Hip Sing.

It is also said they are here to bring about the release of George Loang, alias Long Fook, Hip Sing tong man, now in county jail on a charge of cutting with intent to kill.

WOMAN SHOTS 2

Jealous Wife Creates Sensation at Greenville Fair

DAYTON. — (United Press) — In full view of more than 10,000 persons who packed the amphitheatre of the Darke-co fairgrounds at Greenville yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Rena Fendrick, 30, of Muncie, Ind., shot and wounded Mrs. Mildred Fourman, 28, also of Muncie, and Sarah Baltzell, 15, of New Madison.

Mrs. Fendrick, who was arrested following the shooting, was released later on $5,000 bail. She is said to have been crazed with jealousy when she saw her husband with Mrs. Fourman.

Entering the grandstand, Mrs. Fendrick drew a .25 calibre revolver from under her cape and pointed it at her husband, Frank Fendrick. He struck down the weapon and the ball entered the Baltzell girl's leg.

"You'll never have a chance to break up another home," the woman exclaimed, directing the gun at Mrs. Fourman and pulling the trigger. Again Fendrick struck aside the weapon. The bullet plowed its way thru Mrs. Fourman's leg above the knee. Both victims are reported in good condition today.

STRIKE SITUATION TO BE PROBED

U. S. Marshal Asked to Make Thoro Investigation Here

TRAIN WRECK HELD CLIMAX

More Federal Officers Coming for Duty in Lima

Thoro investigation of the strike situation in Lima will be asked of United States Marshal G. A. Stauffer, who arrived here Friday afternoon.

The request will be made by Ira Longworth, counsel for the B. & O. railroad here, as the result of the wreck of a freight train on the B. & O. lines near here Thursday morning.

Longworth believes the wreck to be the climax of what he terms repeated disturbances arising from the strike situation.

His request will be made of the United States Marshal as soon as Stauffer is given a resume of the situation here.

WILL PRESENT FACTS
"We will merely present the facts to the marshal, and ask that he make a thoro investigation," Longworth declared. "Any action that he desires to take will be acceptable to us."

Stauffer's visit to Lima comes as result of direct charges by Longworth that spikes pulled from three lengths of rail on the B. & O. and L. E. & W. roads, were responsible for the B. & O. wreck, and the derailment of an engine on the L. E. & W. tracks, Thursday morning.

Stauffer was informed of the wrecks late Thursday, and immediately inquired concerning the steps taken by local authorities. He was informed of the preliminary investigation conducted by Sheriff Baxter.

He then announced that if local authorities could not cope with the situation, he would "put on a force that would."

As a result of Stauffer's determination to clean up the situation here, railroad officials in Lima are of the opinion that the two deputy marshals now stationed here regularly will be supplemented by an additional force for special duty.

B. & O. special detectives are conducting a thoro investigation of the wreck on their road, it has been announced. Thoro investigation will be entirely independent from that conducted by federal agents who will be assigned to the work by Stauffer.

Opinion was expressed Thursday that Stauffer himself, would handle the Lima situation in the event that he believed conditions here to be serious enough to warrant his personal attention.

Chief of Police T. A. Lanker, Thursday, had members of the police department working extra time, as a result of the railroad trouble, he announced.

A request for six additional patrolmen, to be specially commissioned for duty until the strike trouble is over, was made by the chief and granted.

Applications for the special work were in the hands of the chief from three men, at noon Friday. Until the six are secured, regular patrolmen will be required to work extra time in order to protect the city.

Some of the men who have applied for appointments to the volunteer force Lanker is organizing have signified their willingness to assist in strike duty.

The B. & O. has offered a $1,000 reward for the apprehension of persons implicated in causing the wreck on its road, officials announced.

STREET REPAIR FORCE IS CUT TO SAVE MONEY

A second cut in the number of men to be employed by the city for street repair was made Friday. It was decided to cut the force to two or three men, Vaughn Miller, city engineer, announced.

This will enable the city to repair the streets which must be repaired but will force the postponement of other work until after January 1, it was announced.

With the city facing a deficit of more than $60,000 it was decided that any workmen who can be dispensed with should be laid off, it was stated.

RIGHT TO VOTE ON BEER DEMANDED

Ohio Labor Plans to Contest Smith's Ruling

COLUMBUS. — (United Press) — The Ohio Federation of Labor is contemplating legal action to contest Secretary of State Smith's authority to refuse to place the proposed "beer and light wine" constitutional amendment on the November election ballot, it was learned today.

Following the federation executive committee's action in passing a resolution condemning Smith's ruling as arbitrary and illegal because no authority is given by the constitution to any official or court "to deny the right of initiative or referendum to the electorate," a committee was appointed to take under advisement the question of going into the courts to obtain a reversal of the decision.

Immediate action is not contemplated, according to T. J. Donnelly, secretary-treasurer of the federation, the committee planning to consider the question fully before acting.

QUESTION AT ISSUE
"As far as we are concerned, this is not a question of voting for and against amendment for beer and wine," said Donnelly. "It is a question of what is going to become of the right of initiative and referendum. Under the constitution neither Mr. Smith nor the courts could deny this proposal a place on the ballot, unless the petitions were insufficient or permeated with fraud."

"The right of the referendum and the initiative also is being crucified. Labor is intensely interested in both and labor intends to fight to the last ditch that the initiative and referendum provisions in the constitution and the people's rights under them are protected. We are not going to see these rights made dependent upon the consent or will of some public officer."

SEARCH IS STARTED FOR MISSING FLYER

DAYTON. — Search has been begun for George W. Holderman and H. E. Cornell, who started on an air trip from Dayton August 14. Holderman and Cornell are wealthy Florida fruit growers. They bought a plane in Dayton and intended to make air cruises for several months.

Cornell's mother at Walla Walla, Wash., is making telegraphic inquiries to locate the men. The missing flyers intended to fly to Walla Walla on their first trip.

PARLEY AT NEW YORK BLOWS UP

Ending of Negotiations is Believed to be Final

ROAD HEADS LEAVE FOR CITY

Last Proposal of Executives Rejected by Union

NEW YORK. — (Associated Press) — Attempts to end the rail shopmen's strike by separate settlements with individual roads failed today and conferences were broken up.

Daniel Willard head of the Baltimore and Ohio, head of the committee of executives who Wednesday decided to continue negotiations with the mediating brotherhood chiefs, to see if separate settlements were possible and other rail heads are preparing to leave town.

In announcing the breaking off of negotiations, David Williams, secretary of the general strike committee of the Metropolitan district, said "nothing else could have happened." If they'll quit fussing around we'll beat these fellows."

ONE OF THE brotherhood leaders said today the conference that the mediator had made every possible effort to bring about a settlement, but that negotiations had blown up. He indicated there was no likelihood at present that they would be resumed.

The break came after brotherhood leaders, who right along have maintained that the strike must end because the public demanded it, had spent two hours conferring with executives representing about thirty per cent of the country's mileage. These negotiations looking toward individual settlements began Wednesday night after the association of Railway Executives as a whole had rejected any proposal involving a surrender on the seniority question.

UNION MEN WITHDRAW
After yesterday's conference the mediators likened their situation to that of bats, who could not find the way out of their difficulties.

While it was said that negotiations had ended "for the present," it had not been officially stated whether there was any prospect of the conferences being resumed in the future.

The brotherhood men withdrew from the conference shortly before noon to return to labor headquarters in the Hotel Woodstock.

From unofficial sources it was learned that the breakup came when labor men rejected a proposal advanced by the roads which was regarded by executives as representing a big concession.

A statement by the executives representing 52 main and subsidiary lines, with 85,000 miles of track, who had attended the latest conferences, disclaimed any desire to take advantage of the strike situation to curtail "the pension or other privileges" which had been earned by the strikers before quitting and expressed a willingness to restore all strikers with pension privileges unimpaired.

The executives said they felt at liberty to do so, as it did not impair the rights or privileges of the other roads not participating in the conferences.

The roads set forth that if any unsettled disputes remained which could not be settled by direct contract, they were willing to submit these points to a commission of ten, comprising the heads of the big five and five executives. The lines, moreover said they were willing to enter upon such a plan in a spirit of conciliation.

FIGHT TO FINISH ON
At labor headquarters where it was said the unions were prepared for a fight to the finish, telegrams were being dispatched all over the country, calling upon strikers to renew the struggle with redoubled vigor.

"We know where we stand now," said one leader.

PROPERTY DYNAMITED
CHICAGO. — (Associated Press) — The railroad strike reached the accompaniment of bomb explosions and extensive violence.

Bombings followed a night of rail greasing and the cutting of air hose at Roadhouse, Ills., division point on the Chicago and Alton. Two explosions occurred near the C. and A. roundhouse and another bomb burst near a hotel where the railroad workers were quartered.

Officials of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad and county authorities were investigating an attempt to dynamite a rail road bridge near Spanish Lake, Missouri. Although the explosion was said to have been terrific, little damage was reported.

Earlier disorders at Jacksonville, Fla., were followed by the dynamiting of the home of J. A. Williams, foreman in the Seaboard Air Line railroad shops and a member of the city council. Williams and his wife, who were in the rear of the building, escaped injury.

YANKS DINED FREE WHILE PRETTY GIRLS DANCE

HONOLULU, T. H. — (Associated Press) — A sunny coral isle in the South sea, where lazy palms fringe the coral strolls, and the women, young and beautiful outnumber the men more than fourteen to one, where thirty cents lasts a month; this is the story told of Tagawa, an islet of the Ellice group, by Captain J. A. T. Olsen, of the American schooner Henriette, wrecked July 16.

The captain's tale follows: "Tagawa is the only habitable island of the Ellice group. Its population consists of 150 persons, of whom only twelve are men."

"Our schooner was swung off her course by heavy seas. "We struck at night, and with the assistance of natives we made shore in safety."

"Our coming was hailed with joy by the natives. The women outnumber the men fourteen to one, or more, and some of them are beautiful. Their ages range from 12 to 18 years and there are only a few older.

"The chief of the tribe, turned over his grass hut palace to the mate and myself to be used as our private quarters. He also tendered me one of his daughters, a beautiful girl, as a servant. Other pretty girls were assigned to the mate and to members of the crew to wait on them."

"I had only thirty cents in my pocket, but money was no object. Dinners were given in our honor and native maidens in grass skirts performed hula dances for our amusement."

"All inhabitants of the island are Christians and all lead a right life. "We had a hard time getting away. The women wanted husbands and they pleaded with us and coaxed us to stay, since, owing to the isolation of Tagawa, most of the men of marriageable age have left it."

Police were working on three theories in an attempt to run down the gunmen:

One is that they are New York Hip Sing gunmen here to take the lives of prominent On Leong members as a reprisal for the assassination in New York August 7 of Lou Ko, national president of the Hip Sing.

It is also said they are here to bring about the release of George Loang, alias Long Fook, Hip Sing tong man, now in county jail on a charge of cutting with intent to kill.

WOMAN SHOOT 2

Jealous Wife Creates Sensation at Greenville Fair

DAYTON—(United Press)—In full view of more than 10,000 persons who packed the amphitheatre of the Darke-co fairgrounds at Greenville yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Reva Fendrick, 30, of Muncie, Ind., shot and wounded Mrs. Mildred Foreman, 28, also of Muncie, and Sarah Baltzell, 15, of New Madison.

Mrs. Fendrick, who was arrested following the shooting, was released later on $5,000 bail. She is said to have been crazed with jealousy when she saw her husband who was with Mrs. Foreman.

Entering the grandstand, Mrs. Fendrick drew a .25 calibre revolver from under her cape and pointed it at her husband, Frank Fendrick. He struck down the weapon and the ball entered the Baltzell girl's leg.

"You'll never have a chance to break up another home," the woman exclaimed, directing the gun at Mrs. Foreman and pulling the trigger. Again Fendrick struck aside the weapon. The bullet plucked its way thru Mrs. Foreman's leg above the knee. Both victims are reported in good condition today.

The captain's tale follows: Tagawa is the only habitable island of the Ellice group. Its population consists of 199 persons, of whom only twelve are men.

U. S. Marshal Asked to Make Thoro Investigation Here

TRAIN WRECK HELD CLIMAX

More Federal Officers Coming for Duty in Lima

Thoro investigation of the strike situation in Lima will be asked of United States Marshal G. A. Stauffer, who arrived here Friday afternoon.

The request will be made by Ira Longworth, counsel for the B. & O. railroad here, as the result of the wreck of a freight train on the B. & O. lines near here Thursday morning.

Longworth believes the wreck to be the climax of what he terms repeated disturbances arising from the strike situation.

His request will be made of the United States Marshal as soon as Stauffer is given a resume of the situation here.

WILL PRESENT FACTS
"We will merely present the facts to the marshal, and ask that he make a thoro investigation," Longworth declared. "Any action that he desires to take will be acceptable to us."

Stauffer's visit to Lima comes as a result of charges by Longworth that strikes pulled from three lengths of rail on the B. & O. and L. E. & W. roads, were responsible for the B. & O. wreck, and the derailment of an engine on the L. E. & W. tracks, Thursday morning.

Stauffer was informed of the wrecks late Thursday. He immediately inquired concerning the steps taken by local authorities. He was informed of the preliminary investigation conducted by Sheriff Baxter.

He then announced that if local authorities could not cope with the situation, he would "put on a force that would."

As a result of Stauffer's determination to clean up the situation here, railroad officials in Lima are of the opinion that the two deputy marshals now stationed here regularly will be supplemented by an additional force for special duty.

B. & O. special detectives are conducting a thoro investigation of the wreck on their road, it has been announced. Their investigation will be entirely independent from that conducted by federal agents who will be assigned to the work by Stauffer.

It is also said they are here to bring about the release of George Loang, alias Long Fook, Hip Sing tong man, now in county jail on a charge of cutting with intent to kill.

QUESTION AT ISSUE
"As far as we are concerned, this is not a question of voting for an amendment for beer and wine," said Donnelly. "It is a question of what is going to become of the right of initiative and referendum. Under the constitution neither Mr. Smith nor the courts could deny this proposal a place on the ballot, unless the petitioners were insufficient or permeated with fraud."

"The right of the referendum and the initiative also is being crucified. Labor is intensely interested in both and labor intends to fight to the last ditch that the initiative and referendum provisions in the constitution and the people's rights under them are protected. We are not going to see these rights made dependent upon the consent or will of some public official."

STREET REPAIR FORCE IS CUT TO SAVE MONEY
A second cut in the number of men to be employed by the city for street repair was made Friday. It was decided to cut the force to two or three men, Vaughn Miller, city engineer, announced.

This will enable the city to repair the streets which must be repaired but will force the postponement of other work until after January 1, it was announced.

With the city facing a deficit of more than $60,000 it was decided that any workmen who can be dispensed with should be laid off, it was stated.

RIGHT TO VOTE ON BEER DEMANDED

Ohio Labor Plans to Contest Smith's Ruling

COLUMBUS—(United Press)—The Ohio Federation of Labor is contemplating legal action to contest Secretary of State Smith's authority to refuse to place the proposed "beer and light wine" constitutional amendment on the November election ballot, it was learned today.

Following the federation executive committee's action in passing a resolution condemning Smith's ruling as arbitrary and illegal because no authority is given by the constitution to any official or court "to deny the right of initiative or referendum to the electorate," a committee was appointed to take under advisement the question of going into the courts to obtain a reversal of the decision.

Immediate action is not contemplated, according to T. J. Donnelly, secretary-treasurer of the federation, the committee planning to consider the question fully before acting.

"As far as we are concerned, this is not a question of voting for an amendment for beer and wine," said Donnelly. "It is a question of what is going to become of the right of initiative and referendum. Under the constitution neither Mr. Smith nor the courts could deny this proposal a place on the ballot, unless the petitioners were insufficient or permeated with fraud."

"The right of the referendum and the initiative also is being crucified. Labor is intensely interested in both and labor intends to fight to the last ditch that the initiative and referendum provisions in the constitution and the people's rights under them are protected. We are not going to see these rights made dependent upon the consent or will of some public official."

SEARCH IS STARTED FOR MISSING FLYER
DAYTON—Search has been begun for George W. Holderman and H. E. Cornell, who started on an air trip from Dayton August 14.

Holderman and Cornell are wealthy Florida fruit growers. They bought a plane in Dayton and intended to make air cruises for several months.

Cornell's mother at Walla Walla, Wash., is making telegraphic inquiries to locate the men. The missing flyers intended to fly to Walla Walla on their first trip.

PARLEY AT NEW YORK BLOWS UP

ROAD HEADS LEAVE FOR CITY

Last Proposal of Executives Rejected by Union

NEW YORK—(Associated Press)—Attempts to end the rail shopmen's strike by separate settlements with individual roads failed today and conferences were broken up.

Daniel Willard head of the Baltimore and Ohio, head of the committee of executives who Wednesday decided to continue negotiations with the mediating brotherhood chiefs, to see if separate settlements were possible and other rail heads are preparing to leave town.

In announcing the breaking off of negotiations, David Williams, secretary of the general strike committee of the Metropolitan district, said "nothing else could have happened." If they'll quit fussing around we'll beat these fellows."

One of the brotherhood leaders said after the conference that the mediators had made every possible effort to bring about a settlement, but that negotiations had blown up. He indicated there was no likelihood of a settlement that they would be resumed.

The break came after brotherhood leaders, who right along have maintained that the strike must end because the public demanded it, had spent two hours conferring with executives representing about thirty per cent of the country's mileage. These negotiations looking toward individual settlements began Wednesday night after the Association of Railway Executives as a whole had rejected any proposal involving a surrender on the seniority question.

UNION MEN WITHDRAW
After yesterday's conference the mediators likened their situation to that of bala, who could not find the way out of their difficulties.

While it was said that negotiations had ended "for the present," it had not been officially stated whether there was any prospect of the conferences being resumed in the future.

The brotherhood men withdrew from the conference shortly before noon to return to labor headquarters in the Hotel Woodstock.

From unofficial sources it was learned that the breakup came when labor men rejected a proposal advanced by the roads which was regarded by executives as representing a big concession.

A statement by the executives representing 53 main and subsidiary lines, with 85,000 miles of track, who had attended the latest conference, disclaimed any desire to take advantage of the strike situation to curtail "the pension or other privileges" which had been earned by the strikers before quitting and expressed a willingness to restore all strikers with pension privileges unimpaired.

The executives said they felt at liberty to do so, as it did not impair the rights or privileges of the other roads not participating in the conference.

The roads set forth that if any unsettled disputes remained which could not be settled by direct conference, they were willing to submit these points to a commission of ten, comprising the heads of the big five and five executives. The lines, moreover, said they were willing to enter upon such a plan in a spirit of confidence.

FIGHT TO FINISH ON
At labor headquarters where it was said the unions were prepared for a fight to the finish, telegrams were being dispatched all over the country, calling upon strikers to renew the struggle with redoubled vigor.

"We know where we stand now," said one leader.

PROPERTY DYNAMITED
CHICAGO—(Associated Press)—The railroad strike reached the end of its eighth week today to the accompaniment of bomb explosions and extensive violence.

Bombings followed a night of rail greasing and the cutting of air hoses at Roadhouse, Ill., a vision point on the Chicago and Alton. Two explosions occurred near the C. and A. roadhouse and another bomb burst near a hotel where the railroad workers were quartered.

Officials of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad and county authorities were investigating an attempt to dynamite a railroad bridge near Spanish Lake, Minn. court. Although the explosion was said to have been terrific, little damage was reported.

Earlier disorders at Jacksonville, Fla., were followed by the dynamiting of the home of J. A. Williams, foreman in the Seaboard Air Line railroad shops and a member of the city council. Williams and his wife, who were in the rear of the building, escaped injury.

YANKS DINED FREE WHILE PRETTY GIRLS DANCE

HONOLULU, T. H.—(Associated Press)—A sunny coral isle in the South sea, where lazy palms fringe the coral strolls, and the women, young and beautiful outnumber the men more than fourteen to one, where thirty cents lasts a month; this is the story told of Tagawa, an islet of the Ellice group, by Captain J. A. T. Olsen, of the American schooner Henriette, wrecked July 16.

The captain's tale follows: Tagawa is the only habitable island of the Ellice group. Its population consists of 199 persons, of whom only twelve are men.

"Our schooner was swung off her course by heavy seas. We struck at night, and with the assistance of natives we made shore in safety."

"Our coming was hailed with joy by the natives. The women outnumber the men fourteen to one, or more, and some of them are beautiful. Their ages range from 12 to 15 years and there are only a few older.

"The chief of the tribe, turned over his grass hut palace to the mate and myself to be used as our private quarters. He also tendered me one of his daughters, a beautiful girl, as a servant. Other pretty girls were assigned to the mate and to members of the crew to wait on them."

"I had only thirty cents in my pocket, but money was no object. Dinners were given in our honor and native maidens in grass skirts performed hula dances for our amusement."

"All inhabitants of the island are Christians and all lead upright lives. We had a hard time getting away. The women wanted husbands and they pleaded with us and coaxed us to stay, since, owing to the isolation of Tagawa, most of the men of marriageable age have left it."

PRESIDENT URGES MINE MEETING

Anthracite Conference Expected to Resume Soon

PITS DECLARED DANGEROUS

Situation in Fields of Ohio Reported on

WASHINGTON. — (Associated Press.)—Negotiations between anthracite operators and United Mine Workers officials to end the suspension of mining operations are expected by officials close to President Harding to be resumed within a week as the result of overtures made on behalf of the administration.

President Harding, it was said today in an official quarter conversation with the anthracite situation, holds that the negotiations, which were suspended early this week through failure of the operators and union officials to reach an agreement, particularly upon the question of arbitration, should be resumed at once.

The influence of the administration has been exerted in this direction and has prevailed upon both sides to the controversy, it was officially stated. Where and when the negotiations will be renewed, officials were not prepared to say.

MINES DANGEROUS
COLUMBUS. — (United Press.)—Ohio coal mines, which have claimed two accident victims since mines reopened a week ago, are in more dangerous condition than ordinarily because of the four and one half months' idleness, miners' officials pointed out here today.

Both of the first deaths reported since reopening of the Ohio mines were due to falling stones or other portions of mine roof.

"Naturally, after so long idleness, the mine roof is in a weakened condition and is more dangerous than usual," G. W. Savage, secretary of the Ohio miners, said Friday.

Chance of accidents, aside from cave-ins, is not considered any greater, as precautions were taken during the strike to safeguard other conditions that might increase the hazard for workmen.

MINES HURT

ATHENS, Ohio. Four miners were hurt, one so severely that he may not live, in the first accident to occur since the resumption of work in this district, when almost a ton of slate fell upon workers who were pushing a loaded mine car out of the basement mine near here late yesterday.

The injured: Glenn Pratt, Athens, broken back; Worley Griffin, Athens, crushed hip; John Vincent, Chaucery, minor bruises; and Walter Oakley, Plains, body bruises.

PLAN CONTEST

Horseshoe Champion of County to be Determined

When the leading horseshoe pitchers of the county gather at McBeth's park Labor Day they will be fighting for a handsome loving cup. It will be the top prize of the City-County picnic competition.

Residents of Allen-co only will be eligible to compete in the contest, which will be to determine the champion of the county. It is hoped that this question can be settled at this meet.

There will also be competitions to discover the city champion and the county champion. The county champion will be determined by a contest between the city and the county champions.

Floyd Matthews, expert "golfer" from the Central fire station, will be in charge of the contests. It will be necessary for all those intending to enter the contests to register with Matthews before the day of the picnic, it is announced.

The cup offered to the county champion is to be seen in the windows at the Windsor Jewelry store, W. Market-st.

RECORD FUR SALES IN NEW YORK REPORTED

NEW YORK.—Femininity, armed with golden bullets, went a-bunting today. The open season for winter furs was on in department stores all over the country.

Record sales of high-prices skins and a steady demand for the medium-priced ones was reported to the United Press from all over America. Midway, believing in preparedness to the extent of preparing for winter in time of summer, chose her garments today and awaited impatiently for the first cold blast.

No radical changes in styles were reported. Since women expect to wear their furs, which in many cases cost fortunes, for several seasons, the conservative cuts prevailed. Some houses, however, had runs on freak styles but these were mostly of the cheaper kind.

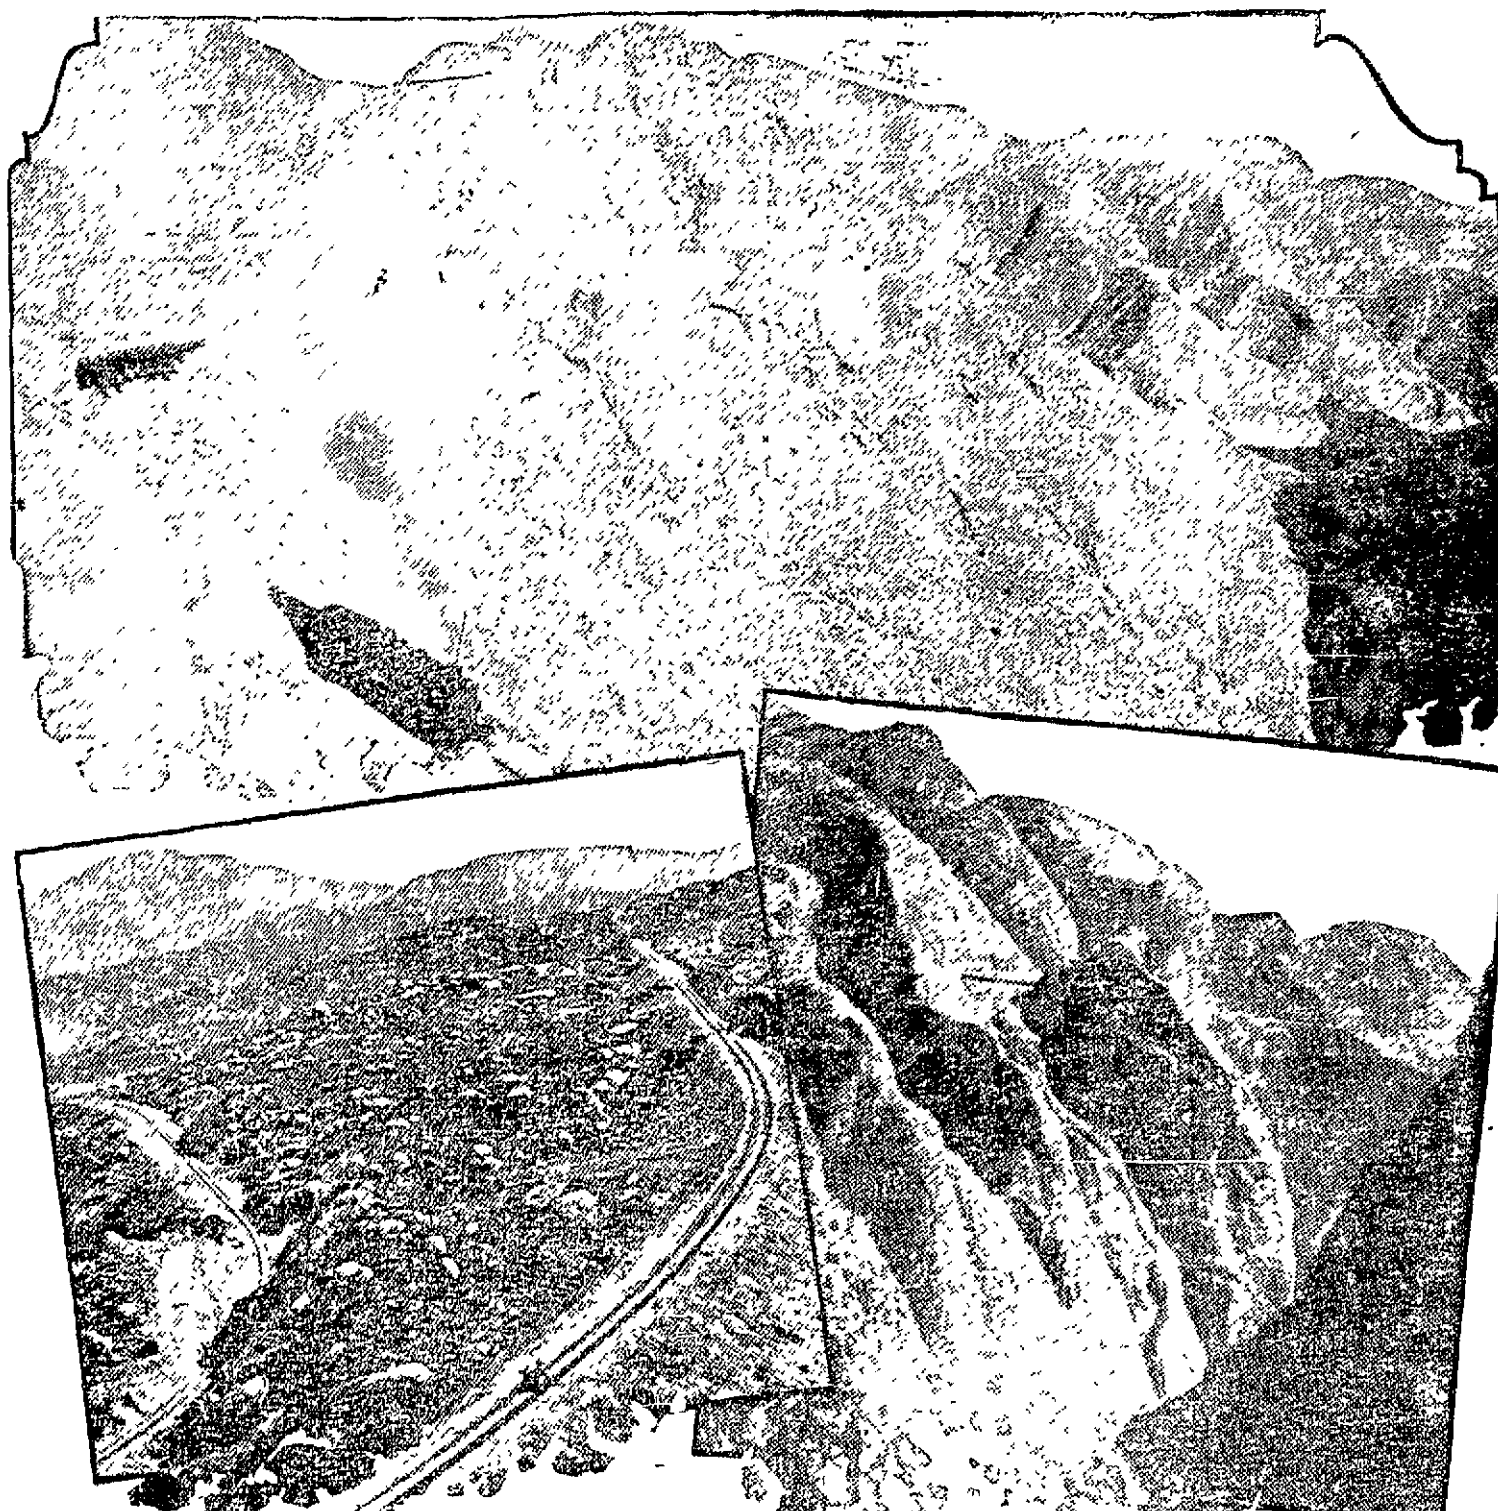

GOVERNMENT AID FOR INJURED OHIOANS ASKED

WASHINGTON.—Representative Kearns, Republican, Ohio, appealed today to President Harding for government aid to Wilbur Morgan, Manchester, Ohio, and Elmer Armstrong, Bethel, Ohio, who were injured last April while on their way to Point Pleasant, Ohio, to hear the president speak at the Grant centennial ceremonies. Both young men were crushed under the deck of the Ohio river steamer Island Queen, which collapsed, Morgan sustaining a broken back.

Representative Kearns, after seeing the president, said Armstrong probably would be offered a federal position and that Mr. Harding was considering some method of offering government assistance to Morgan.

WHERE THERE'S LOTS OF SCENERY

Cost of the 11 miles thru Carraízo Gorge was $3,930,000, the 21 tunnels alone costing $1,762,000. In the case of one tunnel, the train enters from the United States and emerges into Mexico.

33 MEN ARRESTED

Members of Alleged Confidence Gang Taken at Denver

DENVER, Colo. — (United Press.)—Thirty-three alleged confidence men, members of the largest "con men's" organization in the country, were under arrest here today.

Department of justice operatives declared they had broken up a gang which operated from coast to coast. The "stakes" ran into millions, officers said.

The "con men" maintained offices in Florida port cities and Los Angeles. Headquarters of the organization here was in an elaborate suit of offices. A complete "stock exchange" was operated and a corps of stenographers and clerks employed.

Many of the men under arrest are internationally known, justice agents said.

STATE FUEL COMMISSION TO MEET LATE TODAY

COLUMBUS. — A meeting of the state fuel commission is to be held here this afternoon to consider the coal situation in Ohio. Besides probably working out a plan to establish the average cost of production in the various coal fields of the state, the question of supplying inadequate transportation facilities is to be taken up. Fuel Administrator Poor announced. The transportation problem is proving a greater one than the coal problem at present, he said. It is understood a report of the meeting is to be submitted to Governor Davis.

German Reparations Meet Breaks up Without Compromise

PARIS. — (Associated Press.)—The negotiations in Berlin between the reparations mission and German government officials came to an end at noon today without having produced any compromise on the German reparations question acceptable to both the British and French representatives, according to advices reaching French official circles this afternoon.

Sir John Bradbury and Eugene Maclure, British and French representatives respectively of the reparations commission, were expected to leave Berlin this afternoon, arriving in Paris tomorrow. The French foreign office learned unofficially this morning that new proposals were submitted at the forenoon session by Germans but they were not considered important enough to warrant the mission's remaining in Berlin longer. The reparations commissions therefore will bring the proposals to Paris considering their enroute.

U. S. MINE SEIZURE PROPOSED

Offered as Coal Bill Amendment But Withdrawn

WASHINGTON. — (Associated Press.)—The president would be authorized within his discretion to acquire, by condemnation or otherwise and operate any or all of the coal mines in the country under an amendment to the Borah coal commission bill proposed by Senator Edge, Republican, New Jersey.

The amendment also would have congress declare the existence of an emergency, "resulting from the economic and industrial conditions in the production and distribution of coal."

Senator Edge later withdrew the amendment, announcing that he would offer it at another time in the form of a separate bill. The withdrawal resulted from requests by several senators who declared it would complicate the legislative situation and prolong discussion if the amendments were passed.

STRIKES FEATURE RAIL HISTORY

Approximately 1,000 Called During Past 4 Years

ROADS WIN MAJORITY
Walkout of Shopmen May Climax All

(BY HARRY HUNT)

WASHINGTON—(Special).—If the threatened general railway strike, resulting from the strike of the railway shop crafts spreading to the operating brotherhoods and maintenance of way union develops it promises to be the climax of nearly 40 years of intermittent strife between railway workers and operators.

In that time there have been approximately 1,000 strikes affecting the transportation end of railroading. The larger part of these have been local, affecting only one road, or perhaps only one division or yard of one road. But approximately a score have been sufficiently widespread seriously to affect the public welfare.

The workers have lost the majority of these strikes. A study of railroad strikes made by the United States commissioner of labor, covering the period from 1881 to 1905, shows the following:

Number of strikes, 596. Percentage of successful strikes, 12.68. Partially successful, 10.55 per cent. Failed, 75.77 per cent.

Probably the most "successful" strike ever called by the workers was that ordered in the summer of 1916 by the railroad brotherhoods, but which never went into effect.

RUSH LAW THROUGH

To meet the demands of the workers at that time and forestall what was feared would be a nation-wide tieup of transportation, President Wilson addressed a special message to Congress and the Adamson law was rushed through House and Senate, and signed by the president on the day preceding the date the strike was to become effective.

A record of the more important transportation strikes, running back to the historic general strike on the Pennsylvania railroad in 1877, which was one of the most violent labor struggles in American history, follows:

1920. On April 20, a strike of switchmen and yardmen in Chicago and other principal railroad centers was called by local leaders. This strike was quelled by the national officials of the switchmen and yardmen, and branded as "outlaw." Action of union leaders in denouncing the strike as outlaw quickly broke it. About 25,000 men were out.

1910. A strike of shop workers, in which between 40,000 and 50,000 men walked out, was called because of dissatisfaction based on claims that wages had not advanced proportionately to the cost of living. The strike was called off by union leaders on the promise of the national government to attempt to bring down the cost of living.

1909. Switchmen and yardmen, on 33 roads west and north of St. Paul and Duluth struck November 30, for double pay for Sundays, holidays and overtime, elimination of age limit and physical examinations. Men refused arbitration. Strike was broken.

1902. Freight handlers on Chicago roads struck July 13, for increased wages and recognition of union. Increases in pay granted, but recognition of union refused.

1900. Car repairers and freight handlers on all roads out of Chicago struck for higher wages, May 1. Refused. Men were replaced and strike broken.

1894. The great "Pullman strike" in the Pullman shops at Chicago, May 11. This developed into a general strike and boycott of Pullman cars, in which a total of 100,000 men were involved. It was the result of the panic of 1893, following which the Pullman company cut wages 25 per cent, but declined to cut rents on the company houses in which a large part of its workers lived. The strike was called by the American Railway Union. President Cleveland sent federal troops to Chicago to prevent rioting. On July 2 a federal court enjoined workers from influencing men at work to give up jobs. Eugene V. Debs and other strike leaders were arrested for violation of injunction and sentenced to the penitentiary. Strike was broken.

1892. The first use of the injunction in labor disputes came in 1893 in the strike of workers on the Toledo, Ann Arbor & Northern Michigan Railway. This strike was called March 8, the men demanding increased wages, reduction of the overtime limit and recognition of the union. Striking engineers were arrested, cited for contempt in disobeying the injunction orders and fined $50.

ASK RAISE
1892. Yard brakemen and switchmen on the Lehigh Valley Erie & Buffalo Creek Railways struck August 12, for wage increase. The men offered to arbitrate. The railways refused. By August 26 men on the Lackawanna, Nickel Plate, New York Central, West Shore and Lake Shore & Michigan Southern had been drawn in. The strike was to raise the level of pay of men east of Buffalo to that paid men working west of Buffalo. State militia was called out in Pennsylvania. The strike was broken.

1888-9. The famous Burlington strike was called Feb. 27, 1888, by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, as a protest against conditions in classification and grading of engineers and firemen. The firemen went out with the engineers, and switchmen joined March 23. A sympathetic strike was called on the same day. The strike was attempting to handle C. & O. cars. Efforts to produce a boycott of the Burlington failed and traffic gradually increased to normal. The switchmen called their strike off, December 9 and on Jan. 7, 1889, the joint committee of engineers and firemen issued a circular declaring the strike off. The company agreed to take back men who had committed no violence, so far as there were positions to be filled. At peak of strike 1600 engineers were out.

1888. Freight brakemen of the Missouri Pacific walked out March

4, on order of the Knights of Labor, demanding recognition of their union. The road officials refused to treat with the knights' representatives. The strike was declared off in May, the road promising to give preference to strikers in hiring to fill vacancies, but refusing to discharge men taken on during strike. Nine thousand men out.

A BITTER STRIKE

1877. The most disastrous strike, from the viewpoint of actual damage done, was that on the Pennsylvania in July 1877 following an order that all freight trains from Pittsburgh east through the mountains should run as double-headers. The effect of the order was to cut the crews necessary to handle the traffic. Some freight crews at Pittsburgh struck, and trouble at the Pittsburgh yards developed. The sheriff of Allegheny county, wired Governor Hartranft that there was a condition of "tumult, riot and mob" in Pittsburgh. Hartranft ordered out the state militia. The strike spread to the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago and ran them Pittsburgh, Cincinnati & St. Louis. Rioting ran rampant in Pittsburgh. The entire state militia was ordered out and fighting spread. Fifty-three persons were killed and more than 100 injured in the clashes. Strikers seized trains on the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago and ran them three days after the road officials had ordered service stopped. Governor Hartranft appealed to President Hayes for federal aid and General Hancock was dispatched to Pennsylvania with federal troops. A state proclamation was issued calling on all people to organize and arm against rioters. Federal troops reached the scene July 25. The end of the strike was announced July 30. Sixteen hundred cars and 125 locomotives had been burned. All the Pennsylvania's shops and supplies in Pittsburgh had been burned and there was an actual loss to the railway, not including the loss of business of more than $2,000,000. All guilty county was held liable for losses during the riots and paid $2,765,331 in claims. Claims not paid were estimated at $2,787,000.

FARMER CRUSHED, SAYS PATTEN

Victim of Wrong System, Declares Wheat King

PAY FIXED BY COMPETITION

Situation Compared to That of Other Labor

(BY ROY GIBBONS)

CHICAGO.—(Special).—"The American farmer is being crushed by a labor system that permits part of the people to fix their own wages, while the agriculturalist's reward is fixed by competitive conditions."

This is the opinion of James A. Patten, multimillionaire wheat king of Chicago in an interview in which he discussed the fact that the farmer's dollar has shrunk to 71 per cent of its former value. The drop is due to the decreased price of farm commodities as compared to what he buys.

Patten for years has been a keen student of agricultural conditions and his views are accepted as authoritative by students of the subject.

"I am asked where the farmer is headed for and what solution there is for his present situation," Patten said. "In reply I answer, the farmer is not headed anywhere—he has already arrived. His trouble is fundamental and it cannot be cured by local applications."

WAGES REDUCED

"Crops represent the wages of the farmer. He gets no many bushels of wheat for his year's labor. The exchange value of the wheat measure in terms of the products of other labor represents the farmer's reward."

"If his products will now exchange for only 71 per cent of what they exchanged for in 1913, as shown by government reports, then his wages have been reduced by that much."

"When economic factors have free play, the reward for one form of labor when measured in the products of another form of labor, will bear an equitable relation to the amount of human effort involved in each production."

"The fundamental difficulty now is that the price of the farmer's product is fixed by free competition in the case of wheat, by word competition."

FIXED ARTIFICIALLY

"On the other hand, the price of what the farmer has to buy is determined by the wages paid in its production, and these wages are not fixed in free competition, but are artificially established."

"The farmer, therefore, is the chief victim of a situation in which one class of labor is subsidized by wages maintained at an artificial level, and another class which has its wage determined by free competition."

"In the end, economic law will

"In the end, economic law will force a correction by luring men out of the low-paid occupation into subsidized occupation, until food scarcity restores the balance."

"Human society cannot be maintained permanently upon the basis of half competition and half subsidy. No legislation, tariff, financial or other, can reach out and cure this situation. There can be no cure until we give up our attempts at partial socialism and accord free play to economic law."

ROAD WORK MAY CEASE

COLUMBUS—Road construction in Ohio will virtually stop unless cars for the shipment of road materials can be obtained, L. C. Herrick, director of highways declared today. Of 350 contracts which should be working under full force, Herrick said, twenty have been stopped entirely and others are facing a cessation of operations.

Previously a shortage of coal had slackened operations somewhat.

ATTEMPTED WRECK AT PORTSMOUTH PROBED

PORTSMOUTH—Chesapeake and Ohio railroad officials are making every effort to learn the identity of the party or parties who Wednesday night made an unsuccessful attempt to wreck C. & O. Flyer number 4 due in South Portsmouth, Ky., opposite here at midnight. Two iron bars were found nailed across the main eastbound track at Taylor Station, near Tygart Bridge, one mile east of Fullerton, Ky., opposite here. A resident of that vicinity discovered the bars, removed them and notified officials. The bars were discovered just fifteen minutes ahead of the arrival of the flyer from Cincinnati to New York. Two heavy spikes had been driven into ties and the iron bars, eight feet in length and two inches thick, laid between them.

STORM DAMAGES CROPS

INDIANAPOLIS—Wind and heavy rainstorms which were general throughout Indiana early today caused some damage to crops and to property according to reports received by the United States weather bureau. Telephone and telegraph companies also had reports of damage to their wires southeast of here. The weather bureau reported a rainfall of .39 inches during the night and .11 inches since 7 a. m. today.

Six persons took out special tax licenses during last week, J. C. Marsh, deputy internal revenue collector, said Friday. The federal license was all that was required, there being no license fees charged by the city.

FIGHT OVER BABY

Mother Files Suit to Get Child Held by Father

Habeas corpus proceedings to obtain possession of Juanitaeryl Thomas, 13-month-old child of Freddie and Ida Thomas, warring Amanda-ty couple, were instituted by the mother before Probate Judge J. H. Hamilton Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Thomas filed suit for divorce Wednesday against Thomas, alleging that he had taken the child from her by force, and would not allow her to see her.

The husband is alleged to have obtained possession of the baby on August 22.

Hearing in the case was set for 8:30 a. m. city time, Saturday morning.

Thomas was in court with counsel Friday, but a continuance of the case was granted by Judge Hamilton, by agreement of attorneys.

WAR CRY SOUNDED

De Valera Reported Rallying Army to Attack Dublin

DUBLIN.—(United Press).—Eamon De Valera today dramatically emerged from his hiding place and is rallying an army in County Louth in preparation for an attack on Dublin, according to persistent reports here.

The rumor ran rapidly through crowds mourning at the death of Michael Collins whose body lies in state in the city hall. Officers of the Free State government were understood to be attempting to communicate with towns in County Louth in an effort to ascertain the truth or falsity of the reports.

County Louth lies just north of Dublin. If De Valera has re-appeared he has seized this opportunity when he believes the Free States demoralized by Collins assassination to make another effort to overthrow the government and establish a republic.

THIRTY-SEVENTH YEAR LIMA, OHIO, FRIDAY, AUGUST 25, 1922 PRICE THREE CENTS

DAYLIGHT TIME GENERALLY OPPOSED IN LIMA

GOOD POINTS ARE OUTWEIGHED

OFFICIALS CHANGE MINDS
Defeat at Polls Assured if it is Presented

Should daylight saving be taken before the voters at the fall election it will be defeated by a large majority, a survey by The Lima News Friday disclosed. The city has had enough of two times, it is indicated. This will not be due to the fact that the city folk do not like the extra hour in the evening but because of the great inconvenience of two times, Central and Eastern.

Merchants, with scarcely an exception, are against a resumption of this year's conditions next summer. It has proved to be too great a handicap to the buying public from the country and adjoining towns, they say.

Members of the city commission are also certain that it is a mistake to try to operate the city on one time while the railroads and the territory around the city are using another.

MISTAKE, SAYS BINGHAM
Unless it is possible for everybody to move their clocks an hour ahead during the summer and the railroads do likewise, it is a mistake to try to enforce Eastern time in the city, C. A. Bingham says.

While there is no doubt as to the convenience of the faster time to a few during the summer, it is a fact that much inconvenience to many, and an ill feeling has been brought about, city officials say.

Hoteles in the city have found it necessary to operate on Central time, and Central time if they are to accommodate their patrons, a manager of one of the hotels said.

In one hotel there are two clocks, one marked "railroad time" and the other "city time." This is the only way it is possible to keep patrons from becoming hopelessly mixed up on the time, he said.

A selection coming into the city arrives and leaves on Central time, but while here he must regulate his movements by city time or he will not be able to do business, the hotel man added.

OPPOSED BY RAIL MEN
Workers in several industrial plants are agreeable to the Eastern time in the summer. Railroad workers, however, are opposed to the change as it causes them much inconvenience and fails to benefit them.

Members of the city commission voted for the time change because it appeared that the majority of the people were for it. Now that this has been disproved, it is believed the commission will not approve its continuance.

Incident in the city at the present time is against daylight saving time and in favor of one time for all, Mayor Harold Cunningham said Thursday.

A good example of the trouble caused by the using of two different times was seen at the Allen-co fair. As the fair is a county institution it is run on Central time.

W. O. MUST MOVE ITS TRACKS
Occupy County Land, Prosecutor's Notice Declares

Demand that tracks of the Western Ohio, which are alleged to be located on county land south of the corporate limits of Bluffton be removed was prepared for service on traction officials Friday by Prosecuting Attorney Eugene Lippincott.

The notice to vacate all that portion of Inter-County Highway occupied by the tracks will be served by order of the county commission.

Paving work on the road between Beersdam and Bluffton has reached a point near the south limits of Bluffton. The company tracks are occupying the right of way for the highway.

County commissioners aver the traction line has no franchise for that section of the road, but are trespassers. The portion occupied by the tracks is required for building the road. They are situated in the center of the proposed paving.

Commissioners want the tracks moved to one side so as to allow traffic a 100 per cent use of the road.

GAS LIGHTS ON STREETS MAY BE ABANDONED SOON
Abandonment of the gas street lights in the city is looked upon with favor not only by the city but with- out the city, said Friday.

That the lights are not satisfactory has been agreed to by both parties and negotiations have been entered into to eliminate them entirely. The present contract runs until 1924, it was stated by Bingham.

All that the gas company asks is that they be placed in a position to have no money thru the giving up of their contract with the city.

COAL SUPPLY FOR LIMA DELAYED

Failure of Operators and Administration to Agree, Cause

Failure of coal operators of the state and the state fuel administration to get together has left Lima in the same condition as before, H. L. Breckenridge, fuel administrator, said Friday.

It was desired by the state administration to obtain a supply of coal at a fair price for distribution as needed throughout the state. It has been impossible for this supply to be obtained, Breckenridge said.

Supplies of coal in amounts worth feeling optimistic about have not materialized, coal dealers in the city say. Until the railroads are operating normally, it will be impossible to procure large amounts of fuel, it is feared.

Many shipments are on the way but are held up at terminals and cannot be moved, dealers say. Several of the dealers have men constantly tracing down shipments.

Prices continue around the levels reported early in the week. Ohio coal is still in great demand because of the lower freight rate and the shorter haul with its consequent smaller possibility for delay.

Coal prices in Western Kentucky have been shaded as much as $1.50 a ton in some cases but the added freight rate and delay in shipment makes the coal unpopular just now.

Fuel oil prices are still high with but little possibility for any decrease at present. Large quantities are in storage in the mid-continent fields, oil men say, but cannot be moved at the present time.

Movements in oil and gasoline prices during the past week have led oil men to believe that the bottom has been seen in crude oil prices and that higher prices are inevitable.

Swedish People Will Then Decide Prohibition Question

STOCKHOLM, Sweden — (Associated Press) — The Swedish people next Sunday will give their decision at the polls for or against prohibition. No election in Sweden ever has caught the public mind as this, which is to be the first on a question submitted under the newly instituted referendum.

The belief prevails that the cabinet will make no move in the direction of prohibition unless 65 per cent of the vote of the men are cast in favor of it. The vote of the men and women cast in the referendum will be counted separately.

FUEL SITUATION GRAVE
(BY JAMES T. KOLBERT)
WASHINGTON — (United Press) — The administration is gravely concerned over the problem of supplying the country's fuel needs this winter.

Privately, administration officials today admitted that a critical situation confronts the country.

To an already difficult situation, caused by the coal strike and the exhaustion of coal reserves during the suspension of coal production is added the deadlock in the railroad strike. Even if the railroad strike were settled today the country could not avoid rationing of coal this winter, it was admitted. The problem is not coal production, but how much coal the carriers can haul, Secretary of Commerce Hoover said.

A mass of far-reaching bills and resolutions, aiming at government intervention to effect a prompt settlement of the rail and anthracite coal strikes, confronted the senate today.

Formost was the Walsh resolution authorizing the president to take over the mines immediately.

PUT UP TO HARDING
How seriously the administration regards the situation is expressed in the following paragraph in a letter to President Harding from Hoover on measures for curbing profiteering and better coal distribution during the emergency:

"We are deeply impressed with the fact that due to the almost total exhaustion of coal stocks and the inevitable and growing shortage in transportation that the difficulties of the country will be very great even with the resumption of coal production and unless there is legislation enacted that will curb profiteering and will give control to distribution there will be great suffering and difficulties during the period of readjustment."

Now that peace has been restored in many bituminous fields of the country a production of from 1,000,000 to 10,000,000 tons of soft coal weekly is expected for the balance of the coal season, ending April 1, 1923. But with railroad stock badly crippled through lack of repairs still distant, the primary problem is how to place $8,500,000 tons of coal weekly in the hands of the public utilities, the essential food industries, industry in general and private homes.

Hoover estimated that 8,500,000 represents the weekly minimum requirements of the country from September 1 on.

Fear is felt for the northwest, New England and other sections comparatively far removed from the coal fields. New England's problem is anthracite. The anthracite shortage is 30,000,000 tons. The strike in these fields is deadlocked. Consumers have postponed securing coke and soft coal to take the place of hard coal. Unless the anthracite strike is settled shortly a belated rush for substitute fuel is expected.

TONG WAR BREAKS AT CLEVELAND

Homes in Chinatown Shot up by Feudists

CLEVELAND — (United Press) — Tong war between the Hip Sings and the On Leongs, dormant for several months, broke out in Chinatown here early today.

Armed celestials in motor cars sped back and forth thru the district firing fusillades of shots at homes and business establishments of rival tong members.

Windows were shattered and many narrowly escaped injury.

A series of riot calls sent a score of police to the colony but the night riders had disappeared. No casualties were reported.

Police were working on three theories in an attempt to run down the gunmen:

One is that they are New York Hip Sing gunmen here to take the lives of prominent On Leong members as a reprisal for the assassination in New York August 7 of Lou Kiu, national president of the Hip Sing.

It is also said they are here to bring about the release of George Louang, alias Long Fook, Hip Sing long man, now in county jail on a charge of cutting with intent to kill.

WOMAN SHOTS 2

Jealous Wife Creates Sensation at Greenville Fair

DAYTON — (United Press) — In full view of more than 10,000 persons who packed the amphitheatre of the Darke-co fairgrounds at Greenville yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Reva Fendrick, 30, of Muncie, Ind., shot and wounded Mrs. Mildred Foreman, 28, also of Muncie, and Sarah Baltzell, 15, of New Madison.

Mrs. Fendrick, who was arrested following the shooting, was released later on $5,000 bail. She is said to have been crazed with jealousy when she saw her husband who was with Mrs. Foreman.

Entering the grandstand, Mrs. Fendrick drew a .25 calibre revolver from under her cape and pointed it at her husband, Frank Fendrick. He struck down the weapon and the ball entered the Baltzell girl's leg.

"You'll never have a chance to break up another home," the woman exclaimed, directing the gun at Mrs. Foreman and pulling the trigger. Again Fendrick struck aside the weapon. The bullet plowed its way thru Mrs. Foreman's leg above the knee. Both victims are reported in good condition today.

STRIKE SITUATION TO BE PROBED

U. S. Marshal Asked to Make Thoro Investigation Here

TRAIN WRECK HELD CLIMAX

More Federal Officers Coming for Duty in Lima

Thoro investigation of the strike situation in Lima will be asked of United States Marshal G. A. Stauffer, who arrived here Friday afternoon.

The request will be made by Ira Longworth, counsel for the B. & O. railroad here, as the result of the wreck of a freight train on the B. & O. lines near here Thursday morning.

Longworth believes the wreck to be the climax of what he terms repeated disturbances arising from the strike situation.

His request will be made of the United States Marshal as soon as Stauffer is given a resume of the situation here.

WILL PRESENT FACTS
"We will merely present the facts to the marshal, and ask that he make a thoro investigation," Longworth declared. "Any action that he desires to take will be acceptable to us."

Stauffer's visit to Lima comes as result of direct charges by Longworth that spikes pulled from three lengths of rail on the B. & O. and L. E. & W. roads were responsible for the B. & O. wreck, and the derailment of an engine on the L. E. & W. tracks, Thursday morning.

Stauffer was informed of the wrecks late Thursday, he immediately inquired concerning the same taken by local authorities. He was informed of the preliminary investigation conducted by Sheriff Baxter.

He then announced that if local authorities could not cope with the situation, he would "put on a force that would."

As a result of Stauffer's determination to clean up the situation here, railroad officials in Lima are of the opinion that the two deputy marshals now stationed here regularly, will be supplemented by an additional force for special duty.

B. & O. special detectives are conducting a thoro investigation of the wreck on their road, it has been announced. Their investigation will be entirely independent from that conducted by federal agents who will be assigned to the work by Stauffer.

Opinion was expressed Thursday, that Stauffer himself, would handle the Lima situation in the event that he believed conditions here to be serious enough to warrant his personal attention.

Chief of Police T. A. Lanker, Thursday, had members of the police department working extra time, as a result of the railroad trouble, he announced.

A request for six additional patrolmen, to be specially commissioned for duty until the strike trouble is over, was made by the chief and granted.

Applications for the special work were in the hands of the chief from three men, at noon Friday. Until the six are secured, regular patrolmen will be required to work extra time in order to protect the city.

Some of the men who have applied for appointments to the volunteer force Lanker is organizing have signified their willingness to assist in strike duty.

The B. & O. has offered a $1,000 reward for the apprehension of persons implicated in causing the wreck on its road, officials announced.

STREET REPAIR FORCE IS CUT TO SAVE MONEY

A second cut in the number of men to be employed by the city for street repair was made Friday. It was decided to cut the force to two or three men, Vaughn Miller, city engineer, announced.

This will enable the city to repair the streets which must be repaired but will force the postponement of other work until after January 1, it was announced.

With the city facing a deficit of more than $60,000 it was decided that any workmen who can be dispensed with should be laid off, it was stated.

RIGHT TO VOTE ON BEER DEMANDED

Ohio Labor Plans to Contest Smith's Ruling

COLUMBUS — (United Press) — The Ohio Federation of Labor is contemplating legal action to contest Secretary of State Smith's authority to refuse to place the proposed "beer and light wine" constitutional amendment on the November election ballot, it was learned today.

Following the federation executive committee's action in passing a resolution condemning Smith's ruling as arbitrary and illegal because no authority is given by the constitution to any official or court "to deny the right of initiative or referendum to the electorate," a committee was appointed to take under advisement the question of going into the courts to obtain a reversal of the decision.

Immediate action is not contemplated, according to T. J. Donnelly, secretary-treasurer of the federation, the committee planning to consider the question fully before acting.

QUESTION AT ISSUE
"As far as we are concerned, this is not a question of voting for an amendment for beer and wine," said Donnelly. "It is a question of what is going to become of the right of initiative and referendum. Under the constitution neither Mr. Smith nor the courts could deny this proposal a place on the ballot, unless the petitions were insufficient or permeated with fraud."

"The right of the referendum and the initiative also is being crucified. Labor is intensely interested in both and labor intends to fight to the last ditch that the initiative and referendum provisions in the constitution and the people's rights under them are protected. We are not going to see those rights made dependent upon the consent or will of some public officer."

SEARCH IS STARTED FOR MISSING FLYER

DAYTON — Search has been begun for George W. Holderman and H. E. Cornell, who started on an air trip from Dayton August 14. Holderman and Cornell are wealthy Florida fruit growers. They bought a plane in Dayton and intended to make air cruises for several months.

Cornell's mother at Walla Walla, Wash., is making telegraphic inquiries to locate the men. The missing flyers intended to fly to Walla Walla on their first trip.

PARLEY AT NEW YORK BLOWS UP

ROAD HEADS LEAVE FOR CITY

Last Proposal of Executives Rejected by Union

NEW YORK — (Associated Press) — Attempts to end the rail shopmen's strike by separate settlements with individual roads failed today and conferences were broken up.

Daniel Willard head of the Baltimore and Ohio, head of the committee of executives who Wednesday decided to continue negotiations with the mediating brotherhood chiefs, to see if separate settlements were possible and other rail heads are preparing to leave town.

In announcing the breaking off of negotiations, David Williams, secretary of the general strike committee of the Metropolitan district, said "nothing else could have happened." If they'll quit fussing around we'll beat these fellows."

One of the brotherhood leaders said after the conference that the mediators had made every possible effort to bring about a settlement, but that negotiations had blown up. He indicated there was no likelihood at present that they would be resumed.

The break came after brotherhood leaders, who right along have maintained that the strike must end because the public demanded it, had spent two hours conferring with executives representing about thirty per cent of the country's mileage. These negotiations looking toward individual settlements began Wednesday night after the Association of Railway Executives as a whole had rejected any proposal involving a surrender on the seniority question.

UNION MEN WITHDRAW
After yesterday's conference the mediators likened their situation to that of bats, who could not find the way out of their difficulties.

While it was said that negotiations had ended "for the present," it had not been officially stated whether there was any prospect of the conferences being resumed in the future.

The brotherhood men withdrew from the conference shortly before noon to return to labor headquarters in the Hotel Woodstock.

From unofficial sources it was learned that the breakup came when labor men rejected a proposal advanced by the roads which was regarded by executives as representing a big concession.

A statement by the executives representing 52 main and subsidiary lines, with 35,000 miles of track, who had attended the latest conferences, disclaimed any desire to take advantage of the strike situation to curtail "the pension or other privileges" which had been earned by the strikers before the strike and expressed a willingness to restore all strikers with pension privileges unimpaired.

The executives said they felt at liberty to do so, as it did not impair the rights or privileges of the other roads not participating in the conferences.

The roads set forth that if any unsettled disputes remained which could not be settled by direct conference, they were willing to submit these points to a commission of ten, comprising the heads of the big five and five executives. The lines, moreover, said they were willing to enter upon such a plan in a spirit of conciliation.

At labor headquarters where it was said the unions were prepared for a fight to the finish, telegrams were being dispatched all over the country, calling upon strikers to renew the struggle with redoubled vigor.

"We know where we stand now," said one leader.

PROPERTY DYNAMITED
CHICAGO — (Associated Press) — The railroad strike reached the end of its eighth week today to the accompaniment of bomb explosions and extensive violence.

Bombings followed a night of rail greasing and the cutting of air hose at Roodhouse, Ill., division point on the Chicago and Alton. Two explosions occurred near the C. and A. roundhouse and another bomb burst near a hotel where the railroad workers were quartered.

Officials of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad and county authorities were investigating an attempt to dynamite a railroad bridge near Spanish Lake, Missouri. Altho the explosion was said to have been terrific, little damage was reported.

Earlier disorders at Jacksonville, Fla., were followed by the dynamiting of the home of J. A. Williams, foreman in the Seaboard Air Line railroad shops and a member of the city council. Williams and his wife, who were in the rear of the building, escaped injury.

YANKS DINED FREE WHILE PRETTY GIRLS DANCE

HONOLULU, T. H. — (Associated Press) — A sunny coral isle in the South sea, where lazy palms fringe the coral shores, and the women, young and beautiful outnumber the men more than fourteen to one, where thirty cents lasts a month; this is the story told of Tagawa, an islet of the Ellice group, by Captain J. A. T. Olsen, of the American schooner Henriette, wrecked July 16.

The captain's tale follows: "Tagawa is the only habitable island of the Ellice group. Its population consists of 190 persons, of whom only twelve are men."

"Our schooner was swung off her course by heavy seas. "We struck at night, and with the assistance of natives we made shore in safety."

"Our coming was hailed with joy by the natives. The women outnumber the men fourteen to one, or more, and some of them are beautiful. Their ages range from 12 to 18 years and there are only a few older.

"The chief of the tribe, turned over his grass hut palace to the mate and myself to be used as our private quarters. He also tendered me one of his daughters, a beautiful girl, as a servant. Other pretty girls were assigned to the mate and to members of the crew to wait on them."

"I had only thirty cents in my pocket, but money was no object. Dinners were given in our honor and native maidens in grass skirts performed hula dances for our amusement."

"All inhabitants of the island are Christians and all lead upright lives. "We had a hard time getting away. The women wanted husbands and they pleaded with us and coaxed us to stay, since, owing to the isolation of Tagawa, most of the men of marriageable age have left it."

EMPLOYEES GIVEN INSURANCE

Co-partnership Idea of English Concern is Extended

SICK BENEFIT IS PROVIDED

Treating Workers Well Declared Basis of Success

LONDON — (Associated Press) — At the mammoth establishment of J. W. & J. B. Brothers, Fort Sunlight, Lord Leverhulme has long demonstrated to the commercial world that it pays to treat employees well. The co-partnership idea has been the foundation of his gigantic business. He has just carried that idea a long way further.

The insurance policies will be taken out by the company for every employee in the firm, from laborer to directors. The policies of ordinary members of the staff will be worth from 100 pounds to a maximum of 1,000 pounds; those of foremen from 200 pounds to 2,000 pounds, and those of managers from 400 pounds to 4,000 pounds. A system of grading is to be instituted to determine the amount of the policy allotted to each person. Devotion to duty and efficiency will lead to promotion to a higher grade and an increase in the amount of the policy, while for insufficient or careless work an employee may be graded down.

WORKERS' RETIREMENT
Should an employee retire with the company's consent, the company will try to arrange that he continue to pay the premiums. In the event of an employee leaving in any other circumstances, the company will try to secure that the assured person, if he so desires, shall continue payments at the ordinary rates without medical examination.

Under the unemployment scheme the firm will pay a co-partner such a sum as will allow him to continue to pay the premiums. In the event of an employee leaving in any other circumstances, the company will try to secure that the assured person, if he so desires, shall continue payments at the ordinary rates without medical examination.

Lord Leverhulme, explaining the scheme to a meeting of the employees, who adopted it with enthusiasm, said that it was not something of a new idea. The payment of wages in the form of shares was the basis of the plan, but the idea of the new proposals was to reward and encourage diligence and efficient service.

BOYS ARE PRAISED

Lads Who Find Cigars Complimented by Police

Five lads taken into custody by Lima police Wednesday, following their report of a finding of thirteen boxes of cigars, were released by the officers, after the boys had given reliable information concerning box car robberies in south Lima.

Police established the contention of the boys that they had found the cigars in a field. They also commended the lads for reporting their find.

The boys gave their names as John O. Black, 13 1047 Forest-av, George Page, 15, 1170 S. Central-av, Dale Hirt, 14, and his brother, 11, 205 E. Second-st. The fifth boy refused to give his name.

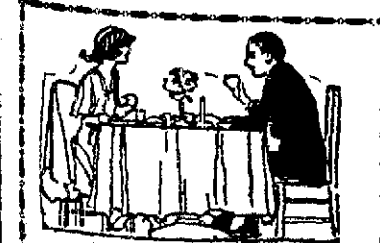

Evidence submitted by the boys may result a solution of the box car robberies, police say.

CITY DEFICIT NOW ALARMING

Funds Not Available to Pay Salaries, Report Shows

RESTRICTED BY NEW LAW

Deficiency Bonds Cannot be Issued as Relief

Unless more cash is procured from some source, city firemen and police officers will not be paid for their work during the first half of September.

This became known Friday when E. O. Sellers, city auditor, submitted a report to the city commission giving the exact amounts in each of the funds at the present time.

Appropriations at the present time are estimated at $68,074.56 more than the cash on hand or likely to be received by the city treasurer. It is estimated that $4,177.98 of this will fall to the lot of the police and fire departments.

At the present time salary appropriations for the police and fire departments are running around $8,500 a month. Friday there was but $5,660.13 in the public safety fund to pay salaries and other expenses. INCURABLE IS SEEN

Addition of six police officers to the force will increase the expenses of the department by approximately $3,000 for the balance of the year, making the total deficit more than $70,000.

Deficits for all departments will be as follows, it is believed: general $3,273.14; safety, $40,417.05; public works, $20,831.49; library, $2,062.67 and hospital, $1,761.42. A surplus of $362.24 will be seen.

Delinquent tax payers are responsible for $10,217.48 of the deficit, Auditor Sellers states. This amount was appropriated to the city by the county budget commission but has never been received. There is also a shortage of $14,479.83 in sinking fund payments.

This $24,697.31 will be paid to the city sometime and the sinking fund is in no danger. Failure to pay the amount due the general expenses of the city will seriously handicap the municipal operations.

Amounts remaining in each of the funds are as follows: general government, $10,943.39; safety department, $5,660.13; health department, $5,963.37; public works, $7,726.43; hospital, $2,238.58 and library, $1,937.33.

In previous years the city had tried itself over discrepancies in the cash balance by means of deficiency bonds. Under the Griswold act it will be impossible for the city to obtain money for general expenses by this means.

CERTIFICATE PROBABLE
It may be possible for the city to issue certificates of indebtedness to be redeemed as soon as tax money is received by the city. This would handicap operations next year and make even greater borrowing necessary, Sellers points out.

That appropriations for the last half of this year are being lived up to and that expenditures for this year will be less than last year was pointed out by C. A. Blugham, city manager, Friday.

He had no plan to offer at the moment for the raising of funds, but pointed out that the deficit this year will be more than $50,000 under that of last year.

What action will be taken by the city commission to obtain the money necessary for meeting firemen's and policemen's salaries will not be known until it argues the question Monday night, it is believed.

NEW AIR MARK SET

German's Motorless Plane Remains up Three Hours

BERLIN — (Associated Press) — A new record for sustained flight in a motorless airplane was set yesterday by Herr Hentzen, student pilot of the Hanover Technical School, when he remained in the air more than three hours.

The flight was made on the concluding day of the gliding competition held in the Rhoen Mountains, near Gersfeld. Hentzen's machine landed 350 meters above the starting point.

Hentzen is the pilot who started the world of aviation last Saturday by remaining in the air two hours and ten seconds, breaking all records by a considerable margin.

TWO PARTIES CLAIMING HOTEL PRESIDENTIAL SUITE

SAN FRANCISCO — The management of the Hotel St. Francis here must decide by some time tomorrow whether a duke and his duchess and their entourage take precedence over the director of the United States mint.

The hotel has a presidential suite with a private elevator, three bedrooms, a dining room and a kitchen to say nothing of a salon and servants' quarters. Just now F. L. Jacoby, director of the mint and a close friend of President Harding, is in the suite. His plans, it was intimated last night, included remaining in the suite for some time yet.

Tomorrow, however, the Duke De Talleyrand-Perigord and his duchess, who formerly was Anna Gould of New York, are to be here from the northwest and have asked for the suite to get the presidential suite.

HOUSE RULED BY ANTIS, CHARGE

Representative Scores Domination in Attack on Volstead

WASHINGTON — Following the killing of his resolution to oust Representative Andrew J. Volstead as chairman of the judiciary committee of the House, Representative George H. Tinkham, Massachusetts Republican, issued a statement in which he scored alleged domination of the House of Representatives by the Anti-Saloon League.

Tinkham's resolution presented late Wednesday and killed by an overwhelming vote demanded the resignation of Volstead, author of the nation's dry law, from the judiciary committee because the Anti-Saloon League had spent money in his last campaign in the Seventh Minnesota district.

Tinkham's statement after the vote to table his resolution follows: The House of Representatives, dominated by the Anti-Saloon League, with an almost unanimous vote stifled debate upon the merits of the resolution calling for the temporary removal of the Chairman of the Judiciary Committee, Andrew J. Volstead, for improper legislative conduct, but cannot suppress before the American people the vital issue raised by the resolution as to whether the Chairman or a committee of Congress properly, honestly and in decency, can hold his position when a private organization, corporation or individual seeks legislation from his committee, either contributes money to him or pays his bills or expends money for him for political purposes.

"Upon the decision of the American people in the immediate future depends whether or not a private organization participating actively in elections with legislation in view shall be allowed to spend money to subsidize members of Congress in advance of their action upon such legislation."

Physicians and hospitals throughout practically the entire state were asked Friday, to report to police authorities, any stranger or individual of questionable character, who comes to them seeking medical aid for severe bruises believed to have been inflicted during the battle between a Rockford farmer and three thieves, one of whom shot and killed the farmer.

Blood found on the door of a shed belonging to Edward Moyer, 63, the victim of the thieves, is believed to have come from a wound inflicted on one of them.

Moyer was killed Wednesday night with his own shotgun, a police report from Collins says, after he grappled with the three who attacked him. Moyer had been watching his garden, anticipating thievery, when he discovered the intruders.

DIVORCE GRANTED PREACHER

Prominent Evangelist's Case Decided at Grand Rapids

WIFE'S SUIT IS DISMISSED

Her Charges of Misconduct Fail to Stand

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. — (Associated Press) — Judge Major Dunningham of superior court today awarded a decree of absolute divorce to Melvin E. Trotter, superintendent of the Grand Rapids city rescue mission and nationally known evangelist. He dismissed the suit for separate maintenance brought by Mrs. Trotter. He held

Mrs. Trotter's charges that her husband had been unfaithful and that he had treated her cruelly, had not been substantiated by evidence.

The court also held there was no evidence to substantiate the charges of Mrs. Trotter that her husband was the father of a child born in July, 1917, to Miss Florence Moody, secretary and bookkeeper at the rescue mission, or that he had "conducted himself with other women in an unbecoming manner."

CONFESSION REFUSED
The judge, in his opinion, declared he believed Mrs. Trotter was actuated in filing her suit for separate maintenance by the fact "that she never had been able to persuade the defendant to confess that he was the father of the Moody child."

The court also asserted Mrs. Trotter charged her husband with acts of alleged cruelty that at the time they were committed if they were committed, were overlooked by her and not regarded by her as of any significance.

The court in his opinion holds Mrs. Trotter herself was guilty of extreme cruelty by circulating stories to the effect that her husband was the father of the Moody child.

As permanent alimony Mrs. Trotter is given the Trotter home and an adjoining house, rentals from which amount to $125 a month.

She also is given the furnishings of the Trotter home and $5,000 in cash.

STROUP FUNERAL WILL BE HELD SATURDAY

Funeral services for Harry Stroupe, 44, inmate of the Gallipolis Epileptic hospital, who died there Wednesday after a two-years illness will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. from the residence of his mother, Mrs. Emma Otto, 214 N. Park-st. Stroupe's body was accompanied to this city for burial, Friday.

Besides the mother, Stroupe is survived by three sisters, Mrs. B. W. Blair, Longbeach, Cal., Mrs. Walter P. Lenhart, Dayton, and Mrs. E. B. Barkhurst, Lima, one brother, Arthur Stroupe, and one half brother, William Otto, both of Lima.

PRESIDENT URGES MINE MEETING

Anthracite Conference Expected to Resume Soon

PITS DECLARED DANGEROUS

Situation in Fields of Ohio Reported on

WASHINGTON. — (Associated Press.)—Negotiations between anthracite operators and United Mine Workers officials to end the suspension of mining operations are expected by officials close to President Harding to be resumed within a week as the result of overtures made on behalf of the administration.

President Harding, it was said today in an official quarter conversation with the anthracite situation, holds that the negotiations, which were suspended early this week thru failure of the operators and union officials to reach an agreement, particularly upon the question of arbitration, should be resumed at once.

The influence of the administration has been exerted in this direction and has prevailed upon both sides to the controversy, it was officially stated. Where and when the negotiations will be resumed, officials were not prepared to say.

MINES DANGEROUS
COLUMBUS. — (United Press.)—Ohio coal mines, which have claimed two accident victims since mines reopened a week ago, are in more dangerous condition than ordinarily because of the fog and one half month's idleness, miners' officials pointed out here today.

Both of the first deaths reported since reopening of the Ohio mines were due to falling stones or other portions of mine roof.

"Naturally, after so long idleness, the mine roof is in a weakened condition and is more dangerous than usual," G. W. Savage, secretary of the Ohio miners, said Friday.

Chance of accidents, aside from cave-ins, is not considered any greater, as precautions were taken during the strike to safeguard other conditions that might increase the hazard for workmen.

MINERS HURT
ATHENS, Ohio. Four miners were hurt, one so severely that he may not live, in the first accident to occur since the resumption of work in this district, when almost a ton of coal fell upon workers who were pushing a loaded mine car out of the Beaumont mine near here late yesterday.

The injured, Glenn Pratt, Athens, broken back; Worley Griffin, Athens, crushed hip; John Vincent, Chaucery, minor bruises; and Walter Oakley, Plains, body bruises.

PLAN CONTEST

Horseshoe Champion of County to be Determined

When the leading horseshoe pitchers of the country gather at McBeth's park Saturday they will be fighting for a handsome loving cup. It will be the top prize of the City-Country picnic competition.

Residents of Allen county only will be eligible to compete in the contest which will be to determine the champion of the county. It is hoped that this question can be settled at this meet.

There will also be competitions to discover the city champion and the country champion. The county champion will be determined by a contest between the city and the country champions.

Floyd Matthews, expert "golfer" from the Central fire station, will be in charge of the contest. It will be necessary for all those intending to enter the contests to register with Matthews before the day of the picnic, it is announced.

The cup offered to the county champion is to be seen in the windows at the Windsor Jewelry store, W. Market-st.

RECORD FUR SALES IN NEW YORK REPORTED

NEW YORK.—Femininity, armed with golden bullets, went a-hunting today. The open season for winter furs was on in department stores all over the country.

Record sales of high-prices skins and a steady demand for the medium-priced ones was reported to the United Press from all over America.

Mildly, believing in preparedness to the extent of preparing for winter in time of summer, chose her garments today and awaited impatiently for the first cold blast.

No radical changes in styles were reported. Since women expect to wear their furs, which in many cases cost fortunes, for several seasons, the conservative cuts prevailed. Some houses, however, had runs on freak styles but these were mostly of the cheaper kind.

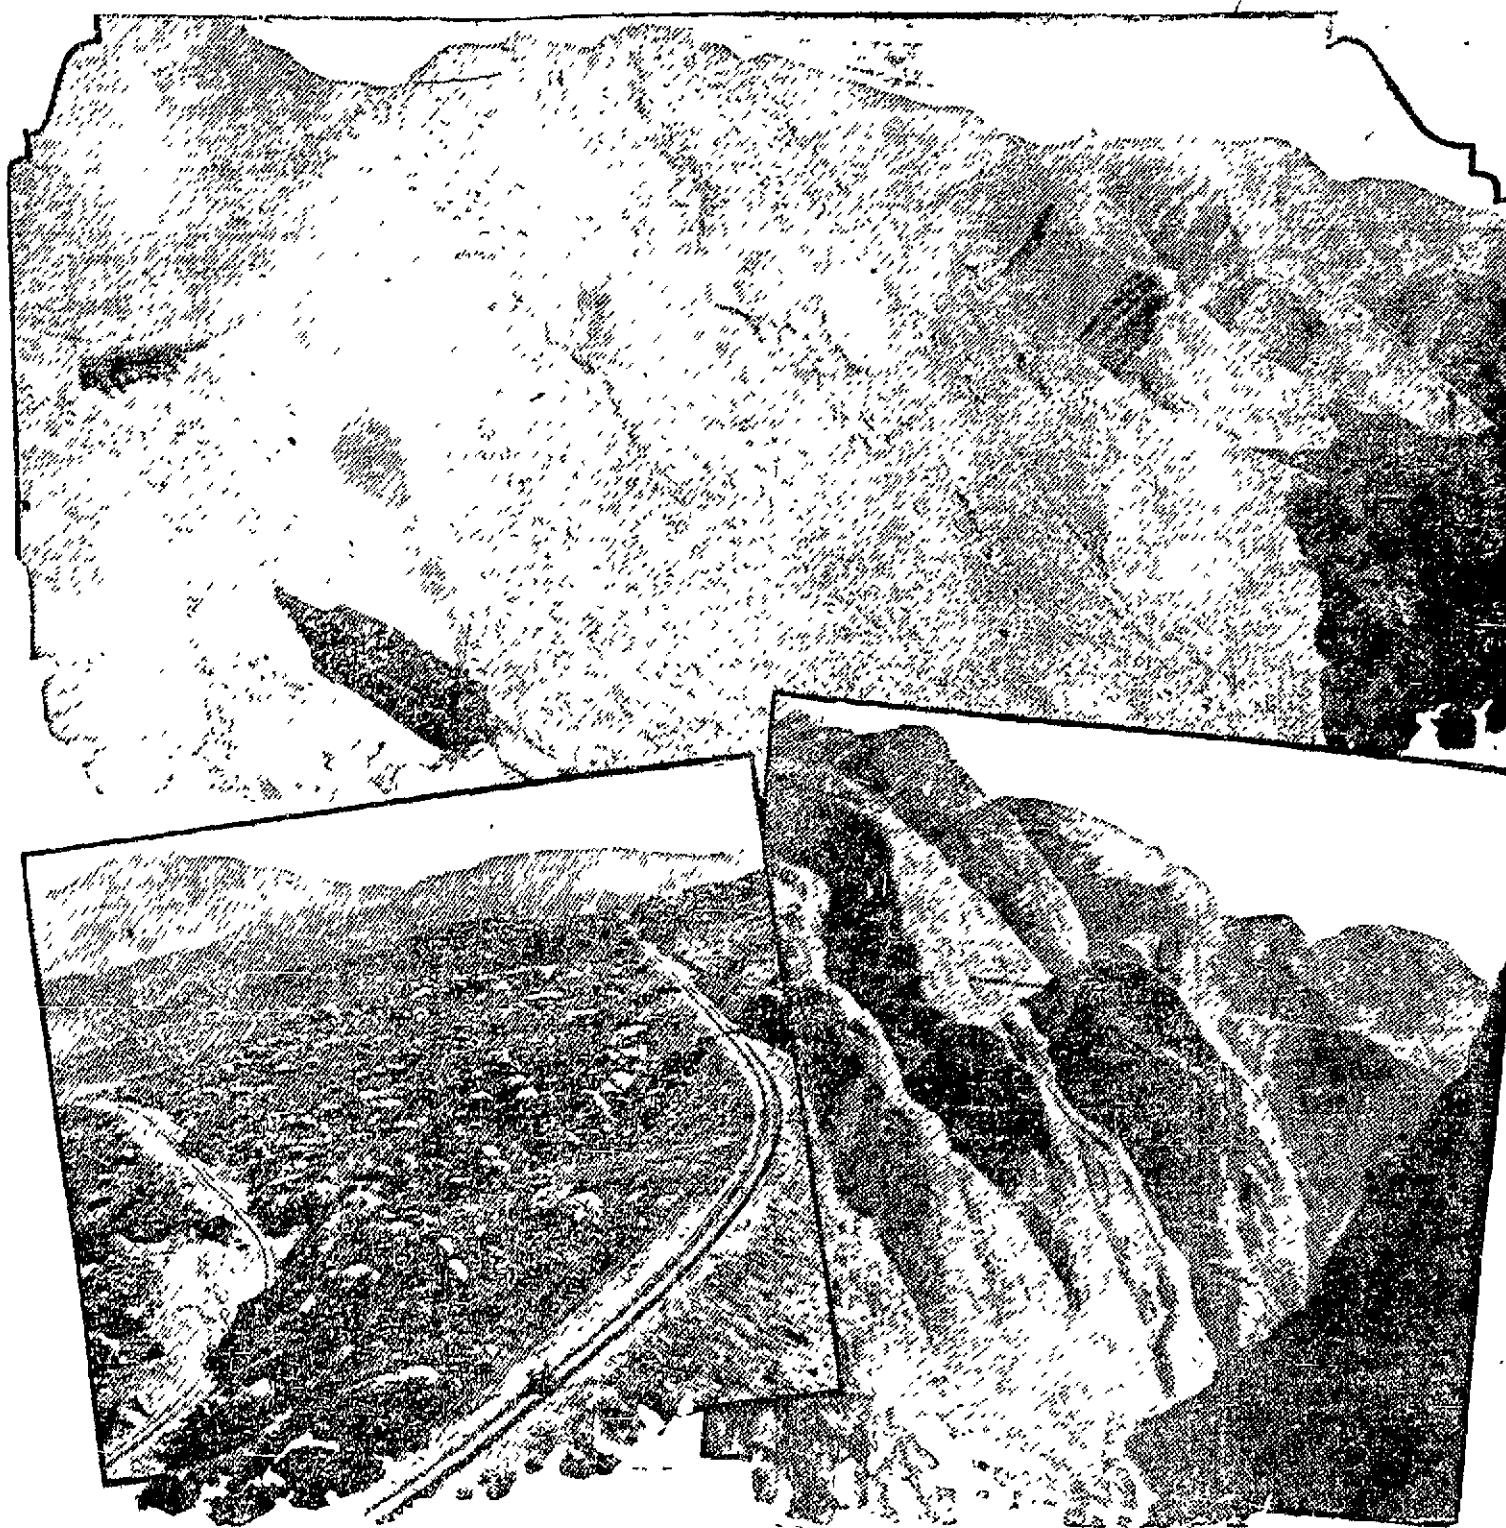

GOVERNMENT AID FOR INJURED OHIOANS ASKED

WASHINGTON.—Representative Kearns, Republican, Ohio, appealed today to President Harding for government aid to Wilbur Morgan, Manchester, Ohio, and Elmer Armstrong, Bethel, Ohio, who were injured last April while on their way to Point Pleasant, Ohio, to hear the president speak at the Great centennial ceremonies. Both young men were crushed under the deck of the Ohio river steamer Island Queen, which collapsed, Morgan sustaining a broken back.

Representative Kearns, after seeing the president, said Armstrong probably would be offered a federal position and that Mr. Harding was considering some method of offering government assistance to Morgan.

WHERE THERE'S LOTS OF SCENERY

Cost of the 11 miles thru Carrizo Gorge was $3,939,000, the 21 tunnels alone costing $1,767,000. In the case of one tunnel, the train enters from the United States and emerges into Mexico.

Riding in the sky, one looks down thousands of feet on acres of mountain side and mesa, the latter in the spring painted with brilliant blossoms of many varieties.

33 MEN ARRESTED

Members of Alleged Confidence Gang Taken at Denver

DENVER, Colo. — (United Press.)—Thirty-three alleged confidence men, members of the largest "con men's" organization in the country, were under arrest here today.

Department of justice operatives declared they had broken up a gang which operated from coast to coast. The "stakes" ran into millions, officers said.

The "con men" maintained offices in Florida port cities and Los Angeles. Headquarters of the organization here was in an elaborate suit of offices. A complete "stock exchange" was operated and a corps of stenographers and clerks employed.

Many of the men under arrest are internationally known, justice agents said.

MAY RETURN TO JOBS SOON

DETROIT.—Three thousand employees of Henry Ford's River Rouge tractor plant dismissed Wednesday as a result of acute coal shortage may return to work early next week, it was learned today.

STATE FUEL COMMISSION TO MEET LATE TODAY

COLUMBUS.—A meeting of the state fuel commission is to be held here this afternoon to consider the coal situation in Ohio. Besides probably working out a plan to establish the average cost of production in the various coal fields of the state, the question of supplying adequate transportation facilities is to be taken up. Fuel Administrator Poor announced. The transportation problem is proving a greater one than the coal problem at present, he said. It is understood a report of the meeting is to be submitted to Governor Davis.

3 DIE IN FLAMES

Business Section of Oklahoma Town Swept by Fire

MUSKOGEE, Okla. — (Associated Press.)—Three persons are reported dead, a score injured and more than half the business district of Haskell, Okla., was in flames this morning. The fire is believed to have been caused by the ignition of gas fumes by a cigarette. Haskell is 22 miles northwest of here.

CONFEREES FAIL

German Reparations Meet Breaks up Without Compromise

PARIS.—(Associated Press.)—The negotiations in Berlin between the reparations mission and German government officials came to an end at noon today without having produced any compromise on the German reparations question acceptable to both the British and French representatives, according to advices reaching French official circles this afternoon.

Sir John Bradbury and Eugene Maclure, British and French representatives respectively of the reparations commission, were expected to leave Berlin this afternoon, arriving in Paris tomorrow. The French foreign office learned unofficially this morning that new proposals were submitted at the forenoon session by Germans but they were not considered important enough to warrant the mission's remaining in Berlin longer.

MEN AND MATTERS

No requests for information regarding the new building code have been received from citizens, C. A. Bingham, city manager, said Friday. The code, if adopted, will affect every citizen in Lima as it will govern every new building to be erected in the city. Because of this everyone should be familiar with its provisions, Bingham says.

Everything is ready to start pouring the cement for the sidewalks on the north side of the postoffice. Pouring is expected to start either Friday or Saturday. A bridge has been erected from the street to the north steps permitting patrons to enter and leave the postoffice without going around to the Elizabeth-st entrance.

U. S. MINE SEIZURE PROPOSED

Offered as Coal Bill Amendment But Withdrawn

WASHINGTON. — (Associated Press.)—The president would be authorized within his discretion to acquire, by condemnation or otherwise and operate any or all of the coal mines in the country under an amendment to the Borna coal commission bill proposed by Senator Edge, Republican, New Jersey.

The amendment also would have congress declare the existence of an emergency, "resulting from the economic and industrial conditions in the production and distribution of coal."

Senator Edge later withdrew the amendment, announcing that he would offer it at another time in the form of a separate bill. The withdrawal resulted from requests by several senators who declared it would complicate the legislative situation and prolong discussion if the amendments were passed.

HELD TO G. O. P. TICKET
COLUMBUS.—Fremont Tanner, candidate for surveyor of Medina county, received a majority of votes for the nomination on both the Republican and Democratic primary tickets, can run as the nominee on only the Republican ticket, according to ruling announced today by Secretary of State Smith.

WATER FIGHT CARRIED UP
COLUMBUS.—Cincinnati's controversy with the Cincinnati board of education over the question of payment for water supplied by the city to the schools has reached the supreme court. The board today filed a motion for an order requiring the court of appeals of Hamilton-co to certify its record, the board having been loser in the lower courts.

ATTORNEY ARRESTED
COLUMBUS.—Stanley Schwartz, local attorney, was arrested today charged with influencing a witness. C. N. Williams, a negro, recently fined for violation of the prohibition laws, and now held on a perjury charge, told officials, they say, that Schwartz made arrangements with him to plead guilty to a charge of possession of liquor which

EMPLOYEES GIVEN INSURANCE
Co-partnership Idea of English Concern is Extended
SICK BENEFIT IS PROVIDED
Treating Workers Well Declared Basis of Success

LONDON — (Associated Press) — At the mammoth establishment of Lever Brothers, Port Sunlight, Lord Leverhulme has long demonstrated to the commercial world that it pays to treat employees well. The co-partnership idea has been the foundation of his gigantic business. He has just carried that idea a long step further.

Life insurance policies will be taken out by the company for every co-partner in the firm, from laborer to directors. The policies of ordinary members of the staff will be worth from 100 pounds to a maximum of 1,000 pounds; those of foremen from 200 pounds to 2,000 pounds, and those of managers from 400 pounds to 4,000 pounds. A system of grading is to be instituted to determine the amount of the policy allotted to each person. Devotion to duty and efficiency will lead to promotion to a higher grade and an increase in the amount of the policy, while for insufficient or careless work an employee may be graded down.

WORKER'S RETIREMENT
Should an employee retire with the company's consent, the company will try to arrange that he continue to pay the premiums. In the event of an employee leaving in any other circumstances, the company will try to secure that the assured person, if he so desires, shall continue payments of the ordinary rates without medical examination.

Under the unemployment scheme the firm will pay a co-partner such a sum as with all allowances from other sources, will equal half wages. Benefit will be paid on a similar basis in the case of sickness extending over a week. This benefit will run for four weeks, and its continuance will then be considered.

Lord Leverhulme, explaining the scheme to a meeting of the employees, who adopted it with enthusiasm, said that it was not something in place of wages. The payment of trade union rates of wages was the basis of the plan, but the idea of the scheme was to reward and encourage diligence and efficient service.

BOYS ARE PRAISED

Lads Who Find Cigars Complimented by Police

Five lads taken into custody by Lima police Wednesday, following their report of a finding of thirteen boxes of cigars, were released by the officers, after the boys had given reliable information concerning box or robberies in south Lima.

Police established the contention of the boys that they had found the cigars in a field. They also commended the lads for reporting their find.

The boys gave their names as John O. Black 13 1047 Forest-av, George Page, 15, 1170 S. Central-av, Dale Hunt, 14, and his brother, 11, 205 E. Second st. The fifth boy refused to give his name.

Evidence submitted by the boys may result in a solution of the box car robberies, police say.

PROBE DEMANDED

Auto Club Says Speed Trap is Operated

Investigation of the most sweeping character by the Logan-co grand jury of operations of an alleged speed trap near Lakeview, was demanded Friday by the Lima Automobile club following the conviction of Nathan Coon, 220 W. Circular st on a speeding charge.

Coon was fined $10 and costs before Justice of the Peace Cox at Lakeview Thursday. Disputes and constables testified that his car was exceeding the speed limit on August 10.

Coon attempted to show by witnesses that he was in Indiana on business on August 10 to 12 inclusive and his car was undergoing repairs in a Lima garage.

The case will be appealed on October.

Demand for a grand jury probe was made by James I. Heffner, business manager of the club, Friday in a letter to Prosecuting Attorney West of Logan co.

CITY DEFICIT NOW ALARMING

Funds Not Available to Pay Salaries, Report Shows

RESTRICTED BY NEW LAW

Deficiency Bonds Cannot be Issued as Relief

Unless more cash is procured from some source, city firemen and police officers will not be paid for their work during the first half of September.

This became known Friday when Evan O. Sellers, city auditor, submitted a report to the city commission, giving the exact amounts in each of the funds at the present time.

Appropriations at the present time are estimated at $68,074.56 more than the cash on hand or likely to be received by the city treasurer. It is estimated that $40,417.08 of this will fall to the lot of the police and fire departments.

At the present time salary appropriations for the police and fire departments are running around $8,500 a month. Friday there was but $5,660.13 in the public safety fund to pay salaries and other expenses.

INCREASED IN SEVEN

Addition of six police officers to the force will increase the expenses of the department by approximately $2,000 for the balance of the year, making the total deficit more than $70,000.

Deficits for all departments will be as follows, it is believed: General $3,278.14; safety, $40,417.08; public works, $20,881.49; library, $2,062.67 and hospital, $1,761.42. A surplus of $362.24 will be seen.

Delinquent tax payers are responsible for $10,217.48 of the deficit, Auditor Sellers states. This amount was appropriated to the city by the county budget commission but has never been received. There is also a shortage of $14,479.33 in sinking fund payments.

This $24,697.31 will be paid to the city sometime and the sinking fund is in no danger. Failure to pay the amount due the general fund of the city will seriously handicap the municipal operations.

Amounts remaining in each of the funds are as follows: general government, $10,943.39; safety department, $5,660.13; health department, $5,965.37; public works, $8,726.43; hospital, $2,238.58 and library, $1,937.33.

In previous years the city had tided itself over discrepancies in the cash balance by means of deficiency bonds. Under the Griswold act it will be impossible for the city to obtain money for general expenses by this means.

CERTIFICATE PROBABLE

It may be possible for the city to issue certificates of indebtedness to be redeemed as soon as tax money is received by the city. This would handicap operations next year and make even greater borrowing necessary, Sellers points out.

That appropriations for the last half of this year are being lived up to and that expenditures for this year will be less than last year was pointed out by C. A. Bingham, city manager, Friday.

He had no plan to offer at the moment for the raising of funds, but pointed out that the deficit this year will be more than $50,000 under that of last year.

What action will be taken by the city commission to obtain the money necessary for meeting firemen and policemen's salaries will not be known until it argues the question Monday night, it is believed.

NEW AIR MARK SET

German's Motorless Plane Remains up Three Hours

BERLIN—(Associated Press)—A new record for sustained flight in a motorless airplane was set yesterday by Herr Hentzen, student flier of the Hanover Technical School, when he remained in the air more than three hours.

The flight was made on the concluding day of the gliding competition held in the Rheine Mountains, near Gersfeld. Hentzen's machine landed 350 meters above the starting point.

Hentzen is the flier who started the world of aviation last Saturday by remaining in the air two hours and ten seconds, breaking all records by a considerable margin.

TWO PARTIES CLAIMING HOTEL PRESIDENTIAL SUITE

SAN FRANCISCO—The management of the Hotel St. Francis here must decide by some time tomorrow whether a duke and his duchess and their entourage take precedence over the director of the United States mint.

The hotel has a presidential suite with a private elevator, three bed rooms, a dining room and a kitchen to say nothing of a salon and servants' quarters. Just now F. E. Jacoby, director of the mint and a close friend of President Harding, is in the suite. His plans, it was intimated last night, included remaining in the suite for some time yet.

Tomorrow, however, the Duke De Talleyrand-Perigord and his duchess, who formerly was Anna Gould of New York, are to be here from the northwest and have asked for and expect to get the presidential suite.

HOUSE RULED BY ANTIS, CHARGE

Representative Scores Domination in Attack on Volstead

WASHINGTON—Following the killing of his resolution to oust Representative Andrew J. Volstead as chairman of the judiciary committee of the House, Representative George H. Tinkham, Massachusetts Republican, issued a statement in which he scored alleged domination of the House of Representatives by the Anti-Saloon league.

Tinkham's resolution presented late Wednesday and killed by an overwhelming vote demanded the resignation of Volstead, author of the nation's dry law, from the judiciary committee because the Anti-Saloon league had spent money in his last campaign in the Seventh Minnesota district.

Tinkham's statement after the vote to table his resolution follows: The House of Representatives, dominated by the Anti-Saloon league, with an almost unanimous vote stifled debate upon the merits of the resolution calling for the peremptory removal of the Chairman of the Judiciary Committee, Andrew J. Volstead, for improper legislative conduct, but cannot suppress before the American people the vital issue raised by the resolution as to whether the Chairman of the committee of Congress properly, honestly and in decency, can hold his position when a private organization, corporation or individual seeking legislation from his committee, either contributes money to him or pays his bills or expends money for him for political purposes.

"Upon the decision of the American people in the immediate future depends whether or not a private organization participating actively in elections with legislation in view shall be allowed to spend money to subsidize members of Congress in advance of their action upon such legislation."

SLAYERS SOUGHT

Rockford Farmer Killed at Home by Thieves

Physicians and hospitals thruout practically the entire state were asked Friday, to report to police authorities, any stranger or individual of questionable character who comes to them seeking medical aid for severe bruises believed to have been inflicted during the battle between a Rockford farmer and three thieves, one of whom shot and killed the farmer.

Blood found on the door of a shed belonging to Edward Moyer, 60, the victim of the thieves, is believed to have come from a wound inflicted on one of them.

Moyer was killed Wednesday night with his own shotgun, a police report from Celina says, after he grappled with the three who attacked him. Moyer had been watching his garden, anticipating thievery, when he discovered the intruders.

WILL NAME DELEGATES

Election of delegates and alternates to the annual state convention of the American Legion, at Dayton September 11 and 12, will be held by members of William Paul Gallagher Post, No. 96, at headquarters Main and North-sts, Friday night. More than 200 Legionaries from Lima and Allen-co are expected to attend the convention.

DIVORCE GRANTED PREACHER

Her Charges of Misconduct Fail to Stand

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich.—(Associated Press)—Judge Major Dunham of superior court today awarded a decree of absolute divorce to Melvin E. Trotter, superintendent of the Grand Rapids city rescue mission and nationally known evangelist. He dismissed the suit for separate maintenance brought by Mrs. Trotter. He held

Mrs. Trotter's charges that her husband had been unfaithful and that he had treated her cruelly, had not been substantiated by evidence.

The court also held there was no evidence to substantiate the charges of Mrs. Trotter that her husband was the father of a child born in July, 1917, to Miss Florence Moody, secretary and bookkeeper at the rescue mission, or that he had "conducted himself with other women in an unbecoming manner."

CONFESSION REFUSED

The judge, in his opinion, declared he believed Mrs. Trotter was actuated in filing her suit for separate maintenance by the fact "that she never had been able to persuade the defendant to confess that he was the father of the Moody child."

The court also asserted Mrs. Trotter charged her husband with acts of alleged cruelty that at the time they were committed if they were committed, were overlooked by her and not regarded by her as of any significance.

The court in his opinion holds Mrs. Trotter herself was guilty of extreme cruelty by circulating stories to the effect that her husband was the father of the Moody child.

As permanent alimony Mrs. Trotter is given the Trotter home and an adjoining house, rentals from which amount to $125 a month. She also is given the furnishings of the Trotter home and $5,000 in cash.

STROUP FUNERAL WILL BE HELD SATURDAY

Funeral services for Harry Stroupe, 44, inmate of the Gallipolis Epileptic hospital, who died there Wednesday after a two-years illness will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. from the residence of his mother, Mrs. Emma Otto, 214 N. Park-st. Stroupe's body was accompanied to this city for burial, Friday.

Besides the mother, Stroupe is survived by three sisters, Mrs. B. W. Blair, Longbeach, Cal., Mrs. Walter P. Lenhart, Dayton, and Mrs. E. B. Barkhurst, Lima, one brother, Arthur Stroupe, and one half brother, William Otto, both of Lima.

ORDER IS BOOKED

Lima Loco Will Build 45 Engines
For M. K. & T.

Capacity operation of the Lima Locomotive Plant into the middle of next year is assured by the receipt of an order for 45 heavy duty locomotives from the M. K. & T. railroad.

Prior to the receipt of the order new York dispatches stated that enough orders had been received to keep the present plant operating at capacity until July 1, 1923.

By increasing the plant 50 per cent thru additions to cost $1,500,000 more business will be handled. Receipt of time present order assures full time operation at the plant and also a rushing business for the Ohio Steel Foundry, maker of steel castings, officials believe.

Lima Locomotives have made and on the M. K. & T. railroad and the reason the order was placed was W. L. Reid vice-president of the company, states.

BOY LIVES TO TELL STORY

NEW YORK — Abie Anklowitz, 12, ran into his father's office today.

Get out of here," yelled the father, "can't you see I'm busy?"

"I'm at rest, pop. I'm all out of breath," pleaded Abie.

"What's the matter?" asked the father.

"Been running from the cops again, eh?"

"Not at all, pop," responded the boy. "I just tell out of a five story window."

FAME AS KITCHEN EXPERT

LEONORA, Kas.—At the age of 20, Clara Perkins already is so famous a kitchen executive that she is now a kitchen expert. She has acquired it, and saving considerable money in the meantime. For instance, her earnings were $1060—not a round sum, for an odd $60 is included, which suggests that Miss Perkins keeps books and knows just where she stands financially. It is for planning cafe menus that she gets her best pay, but she is a good cook, too, specializing in pies, having averaged 100 pies during the four years she was going thru high school. Since then she has taken a course at the state normal school at Hays, and now she's planning to go to college. Leonora has been her principal aid of business activity, but her home is at Kirwin.

STRIKE REMEDY IS OFFERED

British Leader Suggests Parliament of Industry

NOT LINKED WITH STATE

Each Element Would Have Equal Representation

(By MILTON BONNER)
LONDON.—(Special)—The possible remedy for the continuing recurring clashes and disputes between capital and labor in democracies like America and England is a Parliament of Industry.

This is the carefully considered opinion of the Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson, the most skillful leader of the modern British Labor party has produced.

A prominent leader in the trade union movement, a member of Parliament, secretary of the Labor party, a former member of the war cabinet, and the probable premier of Great Britain if the Labor party wins Parliament, his opinions on industrial matters are always given great weight.

In view of recent coal and railroad strikes in England and similar conditions in the United States, I asked him whether there was any possible preventive for such troubles.

"The problem of industrial unrest," Henderson said, "has been growing more acute during recent years. There can be no question of the workers surrendering their right to strike. But it is upon this that should not be used lightly or rashly. No stoppage of industry should take place until every specific means of arriving at a settlement has been exhausted."

"I believe that force in industrial affairs, by whomsoever it may be employed, is as futile in the long run as is force in international affairs. PEACEFUL PROGRESS POSSIBLE."

"I believe it is possible to advance to higher stages of industry organization by peaceful processes as I am convinced it is possible to attain a higher level of international life without recourse to war."

"Industry requires a trace to conflict. The workers cannot continue indefinitely the victims of severe unemployment, semi-starvation, low wages, domestic distress and social wretchedness."

"In my judgment the first step towards economic recovery and a betterment of the workers' conditions of life lies in the creation of some form of machinery capable of investigating and dealing with the problems common to all sections of industry which are the root cause of industrial unrest and conflict."

"Such a body is to be found in the establishment of a Parliament of Industry, representative of employer, workers and the community's interest."

"It is not only desirable, but essential, that such a parliament should come into existence not on the initiative of the government, but on the initiative of trade unions and employers' organizations. It should be an independent body without any connection with the state—this might be done and still not be a work of fiction, as it is not a fiction to obtain power, it is a fact."

Each element should have equal representation and be free to determine its own methods of appointment.

An industrial parliament would provide a machinery by which new ideas could be expressed and an organization which their practical application to industry can be worked out.

Some of the questions of general character to which it might direct its attention would be the status of the worker in industry, insurance by industry, workmen's compensation, standard of life as affected by wages and hours, working conditions, holidays, industrial fatigue and hygiene, investigating new processes, devising better methods of organization, dealing with unemployment, under-employment, and the maintenance of the compulsory idle workers.

"It might devise ways and means of securing for the workers an adequate share in the proceeds of industry and for inaugurating a multitude of desirable reforms."

"It could scrutinize and advise upon all legislative proposals affecting industry as a whole and it would be ready if its services were required, to act in a mediatory capacity in the case of industrial disputes. It might arise. It might also have powers of initiation and be able to submit agreed draft bills to Parliament."

WILKIE BLAME PLACED
CINCINNATI.—Responsibility for the collision of two passenger trains on the Cincinnati, Lebanon and Northern railway on August 1, which resulted in the death of six persons and injury of 61 others, was placed primarily upon the crew of the excursion train that crashed into the regularly scheduled train due at the same time.

Auto Club Says Speed Trap is Operated

Investigation of the most sweeping character by the Logan-co grand jury of operations of an alleged speed trap near Lakeview, was demanded Friday by the Lima Automobile club following the conviction of Nathan Coon, 229 W. Circular-st on a speeding charge.

Coon was fined $10 and costs before Justice of the Peace Cox at Lakeview Thursday. Deputies and constables testified that his car was exceeding the speed limit on August 10.

Coon attempted to show by witnesses that he was in Indiana on business on August 10 to 12 inclusive, and his car was undergoing repairs in a Lima garage.

The case will be appealed on error.

Demand for a grand jury probe was made by James I. Heffner, business manager of the club, Friday in a letter to Prosecuting Attorney West of Logan-co.

Two Things You Never Question-- Our Prices and a Dollar Bill

No one ever threw back a United States Dollar bill with the remark that it was no good and no one ever questioned a Dickensheet's Price Tag. They accept it as standard value on auto accessories of proven worth. Folks know that when we quote a price they can judge everything else like it in town by my figures.

WINS FAME AS KITCHEN EXPERT

LENORA, Kas.—At the age of 20 Miss Clara Perkins already is so clever a kitchen executive that she's paying for her own higher education, her expenses while she acquires it, and saving considerable money in the meantime. For instance, her earnings were $1060—not a round sum, for an odd $80 is included, which suggests that Miss Perkins keeps books and knows just where she stands financially. It is for planning cafe menus that she gets her best pay, but she herself is a good cook, too, specializing on pies, having averaged 100 weekly during the four years she was going thru high school. Since then she has taken a course at the state normal school at Hays, and now she's planning to go to college. Lenora has been her principal field of business activity, but her home is at Kirwin.

LAN BIG ISSUE IN TEXAS POLITICS

Greatest Part in Race for U. S. Senate

REPUBLICANS OPTIMISTIC

Full Ticket for First Time in Years

DALLAS, Tex. — (Associated Press) — The Ku Klux Klan promises to be an issue in Texas politics after the final elections in November. It has become a vital issue in the Democratic party especially in the race for Democratic Senatorial nomination for United States Senate, and is creeping into the race for nomination for lesser state offices. It also has been a bitter issue in certain counties.

The action of the Republican State committee in opposing the Klan in its platform, adopted in convention at Fort Worth, August 9, precipitates dropping of the issue after the Democratic primary tomorrow.

Politicians declare they see a split among the Republicans for the anti-Klan vote in the platform.

The Republicans, for the first time in a number of years, have a full ticket in the field now. Here, where nomination on the Democratic ticket has been considered equal to election with only an occasional ev-

TEACHES INDIANS DOMESTIC SCIENCE

LOS ANGELES, Cal. — Whether we regard civilization as a blessing or otherwise, it's among us and it seems to be here to stay. So the best thing is to adapt ourselves to it and more than that, to become as civilized as possible. If we try to resist it, it will destroy us.

That's the way Princess Zitkala-Sa looks at the matter.

The princess is a Sioux Indian, with a college education.

Carrying out her idea, she's engaged in teaching up-to-date domestic science to America's copper colored young women. Her present field of activity is in the schools on California reservations.

There are few members of the Republican party optimistic enough to declare they expect success of their candidates this year, but they do say they expect the Republican vote will show an increase, and the Democrats will not have as easy a time as in the past.

CORN BADLY DAMAGED

What This Sale Means to You

IT means, first of all, that you may purchase Feldman style and Feldman quality at sensationally low prices. Over a thousand Sweaters—with that distinctiveness, that essential good taste that the Feldman label implies!

In mi-ladys wardrobe the sweater holds the most conspicuous place; the one article of dress about which ones day time clothes center.

Now you will want several—and in this sale you may purchase them at the usual price of only one! A sheer white wool for an all-white costume—if you would be very smart——or a lovely jade that slips over your head and is light enough for the Indian summer day; a beige model in drop-stitch style, with gay, striped border.

There seems to be no end to their stunning styles. In colors there is every shade from palest lavender to midnight blue, and from the faintest pink to vermilion—

There are more variations in style and weave than you had ever believed possible, and there are values that place this sale in a class by itself.

Of heaviest silk or of sheerest ice-wool, here are garments you will feel a constant need for through a season of travel and vacation. SHOP EARLY.

STRIKES FEATURE RAIL HISTORY

Approximately 1,000 Called During Past 4 Years

ROADS WIN MAJORITY

Walkout of Shopmen May Climax All

(BY HARRY HUNT)

WASHINGTON—(Special).—If the threatened general railway clearing resulting from the strike of the railway shop crafts spreading to the operating brotherhoods and maintenance of way union develops it promises to be the climax of nearly 40 years of intermittent strife between railway workers and operators.

In that time there have been approximately 1,000 strikes affecting the transportation end of railroad work. The larger part of these have been local, affecting only one road, or perhaps only one division or yard of one road. But approximately a score have been sufficiently widespread seriously to affect the public welfare.

The workers have lost the majority of these strikes. A study of railroad strikes made by the United States commission of labor covering the period from 1881 to 1905, shows the following:

Number of strikes, 596. Percentage of successful strikes, 12.68. Partially successful, 10.56 per cent. Failed, 76.78 per cent.

Probably the most "successful" strike ever called by the workers was that ordered in the summer of 1916 by the railroad brotherhoods, but which never went into effect.

RUSH LAW THROUGH

To meet the demands of the workers at that time and forestall what was feared would be a nation-wide tieup of transportation, President Wilson addressed a special message to Congress and the Adamson law was rushed through House and Senate and signed by the president on the day preceding the date the strike was to become effective.

A record of the more important transportation strikes, running back to the historic general strike on the Pennsylvania railroad in 1877, which was one of the most violent labor struggles in American history, follows:

1870. On April 20, a strike of switchmen and yardmen in Chicago and other principal railroad centers was called by local leaders. This strike was repudiated by the national officials of the switchmen and yardmen, and branded as "outlaw." Action of union leaders in denouncing the strike as outlaw quickly broke it. About 25,000 men were out.

1910. A strike of shop workers, in which between 40,000 and 50,000 men walked out, was called because of dissatisfaction based on claims that wages had not advanced proportionately to the cost of living. The strike was called off by union leaders on the promise of the national government to attempt to bring down the cost of living.

1909. Switchmen and yardmen, on 13 roads west and north of St. Paul and Duluth struck November 30, for double pay for Sundays, holidays and overtime, elimination of age limit and physical examinations. Men refused arbitration. Strike was broken.

1902. Freight handlers on Chicago roads struck July 13, for increased wages and recognition of union. Increases in pay granted, but recognition of union refused.

1900. Car repairers and freight handlers on all roads out of Chicago struck for higher wages, May 1. Refused. Men were replaced and strike broken.

1894. The great "Pullman strike" in the Pullman shops at Chicago, May 11. This developed into a general strike and boycott of Pullman cars, in which a total of 100,000 men were involved. It was the result of the panic of 1893, following which the Pullman company cut wages 25 per cent, but declined to cut rents on the company houses in which a large part of its workers lived. The strike was called by the American Railway Union. President Cleveland sent federal troops to Chicago to prevent rioting. On July 2 a federal court enjoined workers from influencing men at work to give up jobs. Eugene V. Debs and other strike leaders were arrested for violation of injunction and sentenced to the penitentiary. Strike was broken.

1892. The first use of the injunction in labor disputes came in 1893 in the strike of workers on the Toledo, Ann Arbor & Northern Michigan Railway. This strike was called March 5, the men demanding increased wages, reduction of the overtime limit and recognition of the union. Striking engineers were arrested, cited for contempt in disobeying the injunction orders and fined $50.

ASK RAISE

1892. Yard brakemen and switchmen on the Lehigh Valley Erie & Buffalo Creek Railways struck August 12, for wage increase. The men offered to arbitrate. The railways refused. By August 26 men on the Lackawanna, Nickel Plate, New York Central, West Shore and Lake Shore & Michigan Southern had been drawn in. The strike was to raise the level of pay of men east of Buffalo to that paid men working west of Buffalo. State militia was called out in Pennsylvania. The strike was broken.

1884-9. The famous Burlington strike was called Feb. 27, 1885, by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, as a protest against conditions in classification and grading of engineers and firemen. The fire men went out with the engineers, and switchmen joined March 23. A sympathetic strike was called on the Santa Fe, which was attempting to handle C. D. & A. cars. Efforts to produce a boycott of the Burlington failed and traffic gradually increased to normal. The switchmen called their strike off, December 9 and on Jan. 7, 1889, the joint committee of engineers and firemen issued a circular declaring the strike off. The company agreed to take back men who had committed no violence, so far as there were positions to be filled. At peak of strike 1600 engineers were out.

1886. Freight brakemen of the Missouri Pacific walked out; March

4, on order of the Knights of Labor, demanding recognition of their union. The road officials refused to treat with the knights' representatives. The strike was declared off in May, the road promising to give preference to strikers in hiring to fill vacancies, but refusing to discharge men taken on during strike. Nine thousand men out.

A BITTER STRIKE

1877. The most disastrous strike, from the viewpoint of actual damage done, was that on the Pennsylvania in July 1877 following an order that all freight trains from Pittsburgh east through the mountains should run as double-headers. The effect of the order was to cut the crews necessary to handle the traffic. Some freight crews at Pittsburgh struck, and trouble at the Pittsburgh yards developed. The sheriff of Allegheny county wired Governor Hartranft that there was a condition of "tumult, riot and mob" in Pittsburgh. Hartranft ordered out the state militia. The strike spread to the Pittsburgh, Port Wayne & Chicago and ran then, rioting rampant in Pittsburgh. The entire state militia was ordered out and fighting spread. Fifty-three persons were killed and more than 100 injured in the clashes. Strikers seized trains on the Pittsburgh, Port Wayne & Chicago and ran them three days after the road officials had ordered service stopped. Governor Hartranft appealed to President Hayes for federal aid and General Hancock was dispatched to Pennsylvania with federal troops. A state proclamation was issued calling on all people to organize and arm against rioters. Federal troops reached the scene July 25. The end of the strike was announced July 30. Sixteen hundred cars and 126 locomotives had been burned. All the Pennsylvania's shops and supplies in Pittsburgh had been burned and there was an actual loss to the railway, not including the loss of business of more than $2,000,000. All eleven counties were held liable for losses during the riots and paid $2,765,891 in claims. Claims not paid were estimated at $2,787,000. (Copyright, 1922.)

7 DIE IN WRECK

Four Injured When Trains Collide in Kentucky

NORTONVILLE, Ky. — (United Press).—Seven known dead and four seriously injured was the toll of the wreck between two Illinois Central freight trains near Daniel Boone last night, a check-up showed today.

Conductor J. O. Beaver, 36; Paducah, Ky.; Joseph Serrill, brakeman, Paducah, Ky.; Albert Kerr, brakeman, Paducah, are among the dead.

The injured: Engineer Leslie Crain, Paducah, skull fractured; Foreman Ashbridge, Princeton, Ky.; leg broken, internal injuries; Student Fireman Hilliard, Princeton, scalded; J. Russell, fruit tender, New Orleans, possible internal injuries.

Four unidentified bodies were recovered.

PAY FIXED BY COMPETITION

Situation Compared to That of Other Labor

(BY ROY GIBBONS)

CHICAGO. — (Special). — "The American farmer is being crushed by a labor system that permits part of the people to fix their own wages, while the agriculturalist's reward is fixed by competitive conditions."

This is the opinion of James A. Patten, multimillionaire wheat king of Chicago in an interview in which he discussed the fact that the farmer's dollar has shrunk to 71 per cent of its former value. The drop is due to the decreased price of farm commodities as compared to what he buys.

Patten for years has been a keen student of agricultural conditions and his views are accepted as authoritative by students of the subject.

"I am asked where the farmer is headed for and what solution there is for his present situation," Patten said. "In reply I answer, the farmer is not headed anywhere—he has already arrived. His trouble is fundamental and it cannot be cured by local applications."

"Crops represent the wages of the farmer. He gets so many bushels of wheat for his year's labor. The exchange value of the wheat measured in terms of the products of other labor represents the farmer's reward."

"If his products will now exchange for only 71 per cent of what they exchanged for in 1912, as shown by government reports, then his wages have been reduced by that much."

"When economic factors have free play, the reward for one form of labor when measured in the products of another form of labor, will bear an equitable relation to the amount of human effort involved in each production."

"The fundamental difficulty now is that the price of the farmer's product is fixed by free competition. In the case of wheat, by word competition."

FIXED ARTIFICIALLY

"On the other hand, the price of what the farmer has to buy is determined by the wages paid in its production, and these wages are not fixed in free competition, but are artificially established."

"The farmer, therefore, is the chief victim of a situation in which one class of labor is subsidized by wages maintained at an artificial level, and another class which has its wage determined by free competition."

"In the end, economic law will force a correction by luring men out of the low-paid occupation into subsidized occupation, until food scarcity restores the balance.

"Human society cannot be maintained permanently upon the basis of half competition and half subsidy. No legislation, tariff, financial or other, can reach out and cure this situation. There can be no cure until we give up our attempts at partial socialism and accord free play to economic law."

ROAD WORK MAY CEASE

COLUMBUS.—Road construction in Ohio will virtually stop unless cars for the shipment of road materials can be obtained. L. C. Herlick, director of highways declared today. Of 350 contracts which should be working under full force, Herlick said, twenty have been stopped entirely and others are facing a cessation of operations.

Previously a shortage of coal had slackened operations somewhat.

WAR CRY SOUNDED

De Valera Reported Rallying Army to Attack Dublin

DUBLIN. — (United Press). — Eamon De Valera today dramatically emerged from his hiding place and is rallying an army in County Louth in preparation for an attack on Dublin, according to persistent reports here.

The rumor ran rapidly thru crowds mourning at the bier of Michael Collins whose body lies in state in the city hall. Officers of the Free State government were understood to be attempting to communicate with towns in County Louth in an effort to ascertain the truth or falsity of the reports.

County Louth lies just north of Dublin. De Valera has appeared here and seized this opportunity when he believes the Free States demoralized by Collins assassination to make another effort to overthrow the government and establish a republic.

M'CLURE SOUGHT

Man Who Attempted Suicide Reported in City

Police, Friday, were searching for Guy McClure, real estate agent, 1105 Fairview-av, who two weeks ago attempted to end his life by taking poison.

McClure, who was given over to the care of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. McClure, Columbus Grove, after he recovered from the effects of the poison, was reported to have come to this city.

The report was filed by McClure's parents at 6 p. m. Thursday. Four hours later, police were asked by Mrs. McClure to guard the R. D. Shingle family, occupying McClure's home.

ATTEMPTED WRECK AT PORTSMOUTH PROBED

PORTSMOUTH.—Chesapeake and Ohio railroad officials are making every effort to learn the identity of the party or parties who Wednesday night made an unsuccessful attempt to wreck C. & O. flyer number 4 due in South Portsmouth, Ky., opposite here at midnight. Two iron bars were found nailed across the main eastbound track at Taylor Station, near Tygart Bridge, one mile east of Fullerton, Ky., opposite here. A resident of that vicinity discovered the bars, removed them and notified officials. The bars were discovered just fifteen minutes ahead of the arrival of the flyer from Cincinnati to New York. Two heavy spikes had been driven into ties and the iron bars, eight feet in length and two inches thick, laid between them.

STORM DAMAGES CROPS

INDIANAPOLIS.—Wind and heavy rainstorms which were general thruout Indiana early today caused some damage to crops and to property according to reports received by the United States weather bureau. Telephone and telegraph companies also had reports of damage to their wires southeast of here. The weather bureau reported a rainfall of .39 inches during the night and .11 inches since 7 a. m. today.

FIGHT OVER BA

Mother Files Suit to Get Held by Father

Habeas corpus proceedings to gain possession of Juanita Thomas, 19-months-old child of Freddie and Ida Thomas, wife of Amanda-Ida couple, were instituted by the mother before Probate Judge J. H. Hamilton Friday afternoon. Mrs. Thomas filed suit for delivery of the child against the father, claiming that he had taken the child from her by force, and would allow her to see her.

The husband is alleged to have obtained possession of the child August 22. Hearing in the case was signed for 8:30 a. m. city Saturday morning.

Thomas will fight the writ, it indicated. He was in court counsel Friday, but a counsellor of the case was granted by Hamilton, by agreement of neys.

LICENSES SECURED

Six persons took out special licenses, said Friday. The federal licenses during fair week. Marsh, deputy internal revenue case was all that was required there being no license fees charged by the city.

STRIKE REMEDY IS OFFERED

British Leader Suggests Parliament of Industry

NOT LINKED WITH STATE

Each Element Would Have Equal Representation

(BY MILTON BONNER)

LONDON.—(Special)—The possible remedy for the continually recurring clashes and disputes between capital and labor in democracies like America and England is—a Parliament of Industry.

This is the carefully considered opinion of the Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson, the most skillful leader the modern British Labor party has produced.

A prominent leader in the trades union movement, a member of Parliament, secretary of the Labor party, a former member of the war cabinet, and the probable premier of Great Britain if the Labor party wins Parliament, his opinions on industrial matters are always given great weight.

In view of recent coal and railroad strikes in England and similar conditions in the United States, I asked him whether there was any possible preventive for such troubles.

"The problem of industrial unrest," Henderson said, "has been growing more acute during recent years. There can be no question of the workers surrendering their right to strike. But it is a weapon that should not be used lightly or rashly. No stoppage of industry should take place until every specific means of arriving at a settlement has been exhausted."

"I believe that force in industrial affairs, by whomsoever it may be employed, is as futile in the long run as is force in international affairs. PEACEFUL PROGRESS POSSIBLE.

"I believe it is possible to advance to higher stages of industrial organization by peaceful processes as I am convinced it is possible to attain a higher level of international life without recourse to war.

"Industry requires a trace to conflict. The workers cannot continue indefinitely the victims of severe unemployment, semi-starvation, low wages, domestic distress and social wretchedness.

"In my judgment the first step towards economic recovery and a betterment of the workers' conditions of life lies in the creation of some form of machinery capable of investigating and dealing with the problems common to all sections of industry, which are the root cause of industrial unrest and conflict.

"Such a body is to be found in the establishment of a Parliament of Industry, representative of employers, workers' and the community's interests."

"It is not only desirable, but essential, that such a parliament should come into existence not on the initiative of the government, but on the initiative of trade unions and employers' organizations. It should be an independent body without connection with the state—(to it might be deemed advisable later to seek recognition by the state and to obtain powers defined by legislation).

"Each element should have equal representation and be free to determine its own methods of appointing its representatives."

WORLD-WIDE PROGRESS
"An industrial parliament would provide a mouthpiece by which new ideas can be expressed and an organization by which their practical application to industry can be worked out."

"Some of the questions of a kind eral character to which it might direct its attention would be: the status of the worker in industry, insurance by industry, workmen's compensation, the standard of life as affected by wages and hours, working conditions, holidays, industrial fatigue and hygiene, investigating new processes, devising better methods of organization, dealing with unemployment, under-employment, and the maintenance of the compulsory idle workers.

"It might devise ways and means of securing for the workers an adequate share in the proceeds of industry, and for inaugurating a multi-tude of desirable reforms."

"It could scrutinize and advise upon all legislative proposals affecting industry as a whole, and it should be ready, if its services were required, to act in a mediatory capacity in the case of industrial disputes that might arise. It might also have powers of initiation and be able to submit agreed draft bills to Parliament."

WRECK BLAME PLACED

CINCINNATI.—Responsibility for the collision of two passenger trains on the Cincinnati, Lebanon and Northern railway on August 1, which resulted in the death of six persons and injury of 64 others, was placed primarily upon the crew of the excursion train that crashed into the regularly scheduled train due at the same time.

KLAN BIG ISSUE IN TEXAS POLITICS

Playing Greatest Part in Race for U. S. Senate

REPUBLICANS OPTIMISTIC

Name Full Ticket for First Time in Years

DALLAS, Tex. — (Associated Press) — The Ku Klux Klan promises to be an issue in Texas politics until after the final elections in November. It has become a vital issue in the Democratic party especially in the race for Democratic nomination for United States Senator, and is creeping into the race for nomination for lesser state offices. It also has been a bitter issue in various counties.

The action of the Republican state committee in opposing the Klan in its platform, adopted in convention at Fort Worth, August 9, precludes dropping of the issue after the Democratic primary tomorrow. Politicians declare they see a bid by the Republicans for the anti-Klan Democratic vote in the platform plank opposing the Klan.

The number of years have a full state ticket in the field now. Hereafter nomination on the Democratic ticket has been considered equal to election with only an occasional exception.

TEACHES INDIANS DOMESTIC SCIENCE

LOS ANGELES, Cal. — Whether we regard civilization as a blessing or otherwise, it's among us and it seems to be here to stay. So the best thing is to adapt ourselves to it and more than that, to become as civilized as possible. If we try to resist it, it will destroy us.

That's the way Princess Zitkala-Sa looks at the matter.

The princess is a Sioux Indian, with a college education.

Carrying out her idea, she's engaged in teaching up-to-date domestic science to America's copper colored young women. Her present field of activity is in the schools on California reservations.

There are few members of the Republican party optimistic enough to declare they expect success of their candidates this year, but they do say they expect the Republican vote will show an increase, and the Democrats will not have as easy a time as in the past.

TWO WOMEN SCALE FOUR PEAKS OF MOUNT OLYMPIA

WASHINGTON — Miss Winona Bailey of Seattle and Mrs. Laurie R. Fraser of Chicago, have scaled four peaks of Mount Olympia, said to be the first women known to have achieved this feat, according to a letter received from Miss Bailey by Dr. Core Smith King of this city.

Miss Bailey is a teacher of Latin and Greek in a Seattle high school and Mrs. Fraser holds a like position in a Chicago high school.

They reached the summits August 3 and 5, the letter said.

ROADS WIN MAJORITY

Walkout of Shopmen May Climax All

(BY HARRY HUNT)

WASHINGTON.—(Special).—If the threatened general railway tieup, resulting from the strike of the railway shop crafts spreading to the operating brotherhoods and maintenance of way men, develops it promises to be the climax of nearly 40 years of intermittent strife between railway workers and operators.

In that time there have been approximately 100 strikes affecting the transportation end of railroading. The largest part of these have been local, affecting only one road, or perhaps only one division or yard of one road, and approximately 100,000 men have been sufficiently widespread seriously to affect the public welfare.

The workers have lost the majority of these strikes. A study of railroad strikes made by the United States commissioner of labor, covering the period from 1881 to 1905, shows the following:

Number of strikes, 508. Percentage of successful strikes, 13.68. Partially successful, 14.56 per cent. Failed, 75.76 per cent.

RUSH LAW THROUGH

To meet the demands of the workmen at that time and forestall what was feared would be a nation-wide tieup of transportation. President Wilson advised a special message to Congress and the Adamson law was rushed through House and Senate, and signed by the president on the day preceding the date the strike was to become effective.

A record of the more important transportation strikes, running back to the historic general strike on the Pennsylvania railroad in 1877, which was one of the most violent labor struggles in American history, follows:

1920. On April 20, a strike of switchmen and yardmen in Chicago and other principal railroad centers was called by local leaders. This strike was repudiated by the national officials of the switchmen and yardmen, and branded as "outlaw." Action of union leaders in denouncing the strike as outlaw quickly broke it. About 25,000 men were out.

1910. A strike of shop workers, in which between 40,000 and 50,000 men walked out, was called because of dissatisfaction based on claims that wages had not advanced proportionately to the cost of living. The strike was called off by union leaders on the promise of the national government to attempt to bring down the cost of living.

1900. Switchmen and yardmen, on 13 roads west and north of St. Paul and Duluth struck November 30, for double pay for Sundays, holidays and overtime, elimination of age limit and physical examinations. Men refused arbitration. Strike was broken.

1902. Freight handlers on Chicago roads struck July 13, for increased wages and recognition of union. Increases in pay granted, but recognition of union refused.

1900. Car repairers and freight handlers on all roads west of Chicago struck for higher wages, May 1. Refused. Men were replaced and strike broken.

1904. The great "Pullman strike" in the Pullman shops at Chicago, May 11. This developed into a general strike and boycott of Pullman cars, in which a total of 100,000 men were involved. It was the result of the panic of 1893, following which the Pullman company cut wages 25 per cent, but declined to cut rents on the company houses in which a large part of its workers lived. The strike was called by the American Railway Union. President Cleveland sent federal troops to Chicago to prevent rioting. On July 2 a federal court enjoined workmen from influencing men at work to give up jobs. Eugene V. Debs and other strike leaders were arrested for violation of injunction and sentenced to the penitentiary. Strike was broken.

1903. The first use of the injunction in labor disputes came in 1895 in the strike of workers on the Toledo, Ann Arbor & Northern Michigan Railway. This strike was called March 8, the men demanding increased wages, reduction of the overtime limit and recognition of the union. Striking engineers were arrested, cited for contempt in disobeying the injunction orders and fined $50.

1888-9. The famous Burlington strike was called Feb. 27, 1888, by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers as a protest against conditions in classification and grading of engineers and firemen. The five men went out with the engineers, and switchmen joined March 23. A sympathetic strike was called on the Santa Fe, which was attempting to handle C. & B. cars. Efforts to produce a boycott of the Burlington Southern had been drawn in. The strike was in raised the level of pay of men east of Buffalo to that paid men working west of Buffalo. State militia was called out in Pennsylvania. The strike was broken.

1880. Freight brakemen of the Missouri Pacific walked out March 1, on order of the Knights of Labor, demanding recognition of their union. The road officials refused to treat with the knights' representatives. The strike was declared off in May, the road promising to give preference to strikers in hiring to fill vacancies, but refusing to discharge men taken on during strike. Nine thousand men out.

FARMER CRUSHED, SAYS PATTEN

PAY FIXED BY COMPETITION

Situation Compared to That of Other Labor

(BY ROY GIBBONS)

CHICAGO.—(Special).—"The American farmer is being crushed by a labor system that permits part of the people to fix their own wages, while the agriculturalist's reward is fixed by competitive conditions."

This is the opinion of James A. Patten, multimillionaire wheat king of Chicago in an interview in which he discussed the fact that the farmer's dollar has shrunk to 71 per cent of its former value. The drop is due to the decreased price of farm commodities as compared to what he buys.

Patten for years has been a keen student of agricultural conditions and his views are accepted as authoritative by students of the subject.

"I am asked and where the farmer is headed for and what solution there is for his present situation," Patten said. "In reply I answer, the farmer is not headed anywhere—he has already arrived. His trouble is fundamental and it cannot be cured by local applications."

"Crops represent the wages of the farmer. He gets so many bushels of wheat for his year's labor. The exchange value of the wheat measured in terms of the products of other labor represents the farmer's reward. If his products will now exchange for only 71 per cent of what they exchanged for in 1913, as shown by government reports, then his wages have been reduced by that much."

"When economic factors have free play, the reward for one form of labor when measured in the products of another form of labor, will bear an equitable relation to the amount of human effort involved in each production."

"The fundamental difficulty now is that the price of the farmer's product is fixed by free competition. In the case of wheat, by word competition."

"FIXED ARTIFICIALLY. On the other hand, the price of what the farmer has to buy is determined by the wages paid in its production, and these wages are not fixed in free competition, but are artificially established."

"The farmer, therefore, is the chief victim of a situation in which one class of labor is subsidized by wages maintained at an artificial level, and another class which has its wage determined by free competition."

"In the end, economic law will force a correction by luring men out of the low-paid occupation into subsidized occupation, until food scarcity restores the balance."

"Human society cannot be maintained permanently upon the basis of half competition and half subsidy. No legislation, tariff, financial or other, can reach out and cure this situation. There can be no cure until we give up our attempts at partial socialism and accord free play to economic law."

ROAD WORK MAY CEASE COLUMBUS.—Road construction in Ohio will virtually stop unless cars for the shipment of road materials can be obtained, L. C. Herrick, director of highways declared today. Of 250 contracts which should be working under full force, Herrick said, twenty have been stopped entirely and others are facing a cessation of operations.

Previously a shortage of coal had slackened operations somewhat.

(United Press)

DUBLIN.—Eamon De Valera today dramatically emerged from his hiding place and is rallying an army in County Louth in preparation for an attack on Dublin, according to persistent reports here.

The rumor ran rapidly through crowds mourning at the bier of Michael Collins whose body lies in state in the city hall. Officers of the Free State government were understood to be attempting to communicate with towns in County Louth in an effort to ascertain the truth or falsity of the reports.

County Louth lies just north of Dublin. If De Valera has reappeared he has seized this opportunity when he believes the Free State demoralized by Collins assassination to make another effort to overthrow the government and establish a republic.

Man Who Attempted Suicide Reported in City

Police, Friday, were searching for Guy McClure, real estate agent, 1105 Fairview-av, who two weeks ago attempted to end his life by taking poison.

McClure, who was given over to the care of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. McClure, Columbus Grove, after he recovered from the effects of the poison, was reported to have come to this city.

The report was filed by McClure's parents at 6 p. m. Thursday. Four hours later, police were asked by Mrs. McClure to guard the R. D. Shingle family, occupying McClure's home.

ATTEMPTED WRECK AT PORTSMOUTH PROBED

PORTSMOUTH.—Chesapeake and Ohio railroad officials are making every effort to learn the identity of the party or parties who Wednesday night made an unsuccessful attempt to wreck C. & O. Flyer number 4 due in South Portsmouth, Ky., opposite here at midnight. Two iron bars were found nailed across the main eastbound track at Taylor Station, near Tygart Bridge, one mile east of Fullerton, Ky., opposite here. A resident of that vicinity discovered the bars, removed them and notified officials. The bars were discovered just fifteen minutes ahead of the arrival of the flyer from Cincinnati to New York. Two heavy spikes had been driven into ties and the iron bars, eight feet in length and two inches thick, laid between them.

OPEN LETTERS

To Chief Lanker

DEAR TOM: Here's my hand, Tom, old boy, on the new Lanker's Lameduck squadron which will fly about the city with all mufflers closed. Detecting crime happening and to happen. It's one of the best thought ideas I ever did see. And hard on all those who are not duly sworn in as the twenty official detectors. Frinstance, folks won't know whether they're talking to a cop or a parson. It will make it dangerous for the evil-minded to even think in the open. I've told all my neighbors and they're going to recruit. Instead of twenty we should secure two thousand or more and with this many in the squadron, we'll drive the criminals from our fair city; making it so unpleasant they'll not so much as tarry long enough to eat even a hot pup. You've got my hand, Tom, get the squadron to flying.

LIMA BEANE

To Loco Officials

DEAR BILL AND LOU: Why didn't you tip me off on this Lima Loco stock? Here you go giving two for one, and the one starts up ten dollars a share over night, and I with not a bloomin' share. How come, when you know I have Scotch-Irish blood in my veins and belong to the Episcopalian men's club?

LIMA BEANE

To T. P. Pearman, Y. M. C. A. Secretary

DEAR TOM: I am advised that you have opened a reading room in the "Y" building where young men, not residents of your dormitory, may congregate, read the latest magazines and newspapers and SMOKE.

Tom, that's the most sensible thing I have heard in a long time. You are getting down to the business of dealing with real he-boys and men. They will smoke, most of 'em, and all the rules and regulations of parents and those in loco parentis cannot stop it. I congratulate you.

LIMA BEANE

To Speculators

FRIENDS: My broker advises me that the big change is going to see one of the greatest bull markets in its history during the next several months. I confess he has told me so many things that I don't know exactly what's what. It's out of my line.

But, friends, there is one bull market that is going to be that kind of a market for several years. It is LIMA. I'm convinced that my few dollars will be safe here and grow and here's where they are going to be invested. I'm going to let the big boys run the uncertain games. Me for safety and Lima spells just that to me.

LIMA BEANE

To Superintendent Collins

DEAR JOHN: Suppose you will be coming in from Adams-co, John, about next week; and open up our larnin' factories. I want you to take a peep at Central High on first arrival, and see how the weeds have prospered during your stay down on the farm. And repair the broken windows in the coal bins. And get a new sidewalk laid around your handsome building. The schools always have money and Fred Calvert likes cleanliness. Janitors are supposed to jan, but they've been depending on nature this summer. And between the weeds and the dirt, nature has had a poor chance.

The coal mine an railroad trouble is workin' a hardship on everybody 'cept prob'ly the cook o' the Mayflower. There'll be a benefit for the "Prosperity Club" at Melodora Hall, t'night.

Loco mechanic who went home and to his wife said: Any installment collectors been around? No. Any installments due? No. Well, I have ten dollars so let's buy a Ford. So, belowstairs and breakfast on prunes, intertwined with figs, a rasher of Irish bacon and pot of tea. Abroad in a drizzle, albeit picked up by Circulation Car No. 3. Avoided the poste to greet John M. Boose, the realtor and underwriter, who showed me a check for $20,000. Which cost the man who bot it only $200 and his life.

To the office, whence came Manager Phillips, of the First National theatre, (alias The Sigma) and with him my old friend, Bob Eastman. So, we are going "Smilin' Thru" the first week in September. Worked long at my scrivening and casting up accounts against the last week of a super poor month. Thence out and met Homer Hughes, the grandson of Tiffany, who told me I was looking old and tired. Which I denied forthwith, and in my tale pointed out I made a 46 the last time 'round. At which he seemed much pleased.

THE REAPER—PAST AND PRESENT

To General Byng

DEAR CLARENCE: Thanks for the advance knowledge I don't have to buy new curb for the square. When Cousin Marsh Thompson told me the news it made me glad to know that you will pave the historic square next summer and plant new curb. When I think of how past administrations never did nothing 'till and how you've got the water and sewer pipe factories working nights, and operating the old town for less money than she ever required as a going concern, my hat's in the ring for you. But say, Clarence, if you're foolin' me and I find taxes jumping on me next year and the year after that, look out for a blackjack. I'm for improvements, so long as they cost nothin' to me. LIMA BEANE

To County Treasurer Botkins

DEAR HARRY: My favorite newspaper informs me that the delinquent tax list this year is greater than ever before.

I am unable to understand this, since the keynote of the Republican state convention proclaimed that the administration rehabilitated the farmer. However, from the Democratic convention, I am informed that the farmer has instead been "deflated" and that those who have paid their taxes were required, for the most part, to borrow the money. I cannot understand such a wide variance of opinion in such an important matter.

LIMA BEANE

To Lowell Baxter

DEAR LOWELL: Congratulations on capturing the honors in the Allen County Fair spelling contest.

Your achievement is a credit to your own ability and to your instructors in the county school system, in addition to bringing particular attention to your home village of Elida.

Unfortunately, spelling appears to have become a lost art with many. I am glad that in some places it is not being overlooked as one of the main essentials to an education.

Common Sense Ways to Keep Well

BEWARE OF SMALLPOX

In a few more weeks, vacation will come to a close for hundreds of thousands of children all over the United States. Back to school-houses, large and small, urban and rural, they will flock. Your child will be one of them. Have you allowed him to go unprotected against smallpox?

Smallpox has few terrors for our generation, because few of us have seen the ravages which it used to make before the discovery of vaccine.

We are becoming careless. We put off getting vaccinated and having our children vaccinated. This growing carelessness will result in many deaths from smallpox some day.

Vaccination is not a dangerous process. During the two years of the war, 3,000,000 persons were vaccinated in this country without a single death.

Since vaccination is the only sure preventive of smallpox, it is essential that one should be vaccinated early in life. A baby should be vaccinated during its first year and again at the age of seven. After two successful vaccinations, immunity usually lasts a lifetime. However, if one is exposed to the smallpox, and has not had the disease, he should be vaccinated at once unless he has undergone the treatment within the preceding five years.

POEMS YOU WILL ENJOY

—BY BERTON BRALEY—

ASK ANY COOK
I hate to cook for folks who toy
And pick and trifle with their food,

As tho the victuals gave no joy,
As tho an appetite were rude;
I like to see 'em wade right in
And eat their steak and corn and peas.

I like to hear 'em say—"an' grin—
"I'll take another helping,
please!"

I'm glad to spend a half a day
Preparing food the best I can,
If I can see it put away
With zest to feed the inner man;
And it is music to my ear.

Sweet as the sweetest melodies,
When from the diners' lips I hear,
"I'll take another helping,
please!"

It's fun to fill a good sized plate,
Then watch the victuals vanishing,
It shows that folks appreciate
My gastronomic offering.
People whose appetites are slim—
I will not cook for such as these,
Give me the kind who shout with vim,
"I'll take another helping,
please!"

Woman Blamed By Her Family
Restless, irritable, nervous, excitable and exacting is the charge against her by those nearest and dearest. How little they realize the struggle the overworked wife and mother is making to keep about and perform the hundred and one duties that devolve upon her! Every hour her headaches, backaches and pains drag her down until she can stand it no longer. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored more women in this condition to health and happiness than any other medicine. The grateful letters we are continually publishing in this paper from women who have found health by its use prove it.—Adv.

DOG CONTINUES VISITS TO HIS MASTER'S GRAVE

RARDEN, Ohio — "Shep," the dog who lost his pal, Roy Jones, Adams-co boy, by death last November, still remains faithful to his former master.
The dog leaves his home every few days to visit the grave of the youth, remaining for hours.

The boy and the dog were constant companions. When the mother of the dead boy goes to church the dog accompanies her, but stops at the cemetery and remains by the grave until she returns.

JENNINGS GRANGE WINS PRIZE

Has Biggest Attendance of Members at County Fair

7,000 ON GROUNDS THURSDAY

Excellent Racing Card for Afternoon is Arranged

Jennings Grange won the loving cup for attendance at the Allen county fair, announced Friday. The cup, a handsome silver trophy given by the Deisel-Wemmer Co. was carried off in 1931 by Shawnee Grange. The victorious farmer organization went thru the fair gates over 700 strong and in addition helped fill Grange Hall with a huge display of produce that will take many prizes, it is reported.

The cup contest is one of the numerous contests arranged to add spice to the fair program. Another is the future hog show in which prizes ranging from $1 to $10 are offered for display of young stock as a sideline to the regular exhibits. Winners have not yet been announced.

Prize winners will be announced in two weeks. Entry Superintendent Gus Fraunfelser said. Much work is necessary to make a recapitulation of every department and file it with Secretary Creman, he stated.

7,000 ON GROUNDS

Yellow clay has its tenacious qualities tested at the fair Thursday, but the sticky substance did not deter 7,000 persons from making the full rounds.

Everyone except those disappointed by calling off of the races was happy. Fair officials declared they had never before seen such a great crowd on a murky day.

Hundreds of mothers took their children to the Child Welfare association headquarters to have them weighed and the exhibits of the tiny bundles of humanity were declared more interesting than a baby show. Out of the first 50 examined by the nurse, Charlotte Bassitt, only three were declared to be up to requirements.

A team of eight city firemen competed in a horseshoe tournament with a team composed of race horse men, most of whom are from Wharman, the fire laddies being defeated.

The turfman scored 566 points against 470.

The sun, conspicuous by its absence on Wednesday and Thursday, broke out in full glory Friday, a wind sprang up and the result was that races were to be held.

Five events, the 2:15 Hoover-Bond pace, 2:15 Fallow-Morris trot, two-year old trot, 2:15 pace and 2:15 San Felice trot were announced, thus completing the fair with what is declared by turfmen to be the best program they have bumped into this season.

CAPITAL INCREASE SOUGHT

WASHINGTON — The Pittsburgh and West Virginia Railway company today applied to the interstate commerce commission for authority to increase its capital stock by issuing $4,900,000 of preferred stock. Proceeds would be used to reimburse the road's treasury for recent additions and developments.

REUNION OF HEFFNER FAMILY HERE SEPT. 4

The Second Annual Reunion of the Heffner families of Ohio and adjoining states will be held at Fawcett park Labor Day.

About 400 members are expected to attend. One year ago 350 members of the family were present from Michigan, Minnesota, Pennsylvania and Indiana, beside the Ohio delegation.

C. W. Heffner, Bellefontaine, is president and Joseph Cline, St. Johns-av, is secretary. The committee on nomination is composed of Esther Heffner, Lima; Rose Heffner, Akron; Jennie Heffner, Toledo; Edith C. Heffner, Springfield, and Viola Wilhelms, Troy.

AGED WOMAN, NATIVE OF VIRGINIA, DIES HERE

Mrs. Elizabeth Cline, 78, a native of Virginia, died Friday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. O. A. Armstrong, 522 W. Vine-st, after an illness of a year.

She leaves, beside the daughter, two sons, C. A. Kueper, of Dayton, and Charles Kueper of Muncie, Ind. Funeral services will be conducted Monday at 2 p. m. at the Armstrong home in charge of Rev. D. N. Kelly. The place of burial has not been announced.

CHILDREN OF HOME SEE FAIR, GUESTS OF CLUB

Children from the Allen-co home, were taken to the county fair Friday afternoon as guests of the Lima Automobile Club.

Twenty motor cars, driven by club members, made the trip.

At the fairgrounds each child was given a souvenir, and a treat of candy, pop-corn, peanuts and lemonade.

Steele, Butler, Pa.; Jack Wise, Bluffton and the host and hostess and children, Miss Lucille, Miss Constance, Jerome, Donald, Armond, Sylvan and Herbert.

Later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Wise received more than one hundred and fifty guests at their home. There were no invitations issued for the affair and the numerous friends were received formally through the evening. Garden fountains were used attractively through the rooms of the Wise home. Delicious refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Plummer and son, Carl, State-st., and Henry Wemmer, Jr., are motoring to Atlantic City. They will be absent several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Armstrong and daughter, Helen, Lowell-av., Mr. and Mrs. N. R. Fuller, N. Baxter-st., motored to Columbus for a several days' stay.

An interesting contest in the True Blue class of the Market-st. Presbyterian church was closed with a social affair at the home of Mrs. J. B. Summers, Wednesday afternoon. The winners entertained the losers. At 6 o'clock an elaborate dinner was served. This was followed by a regular business meeting. In the election of officers Miss Lydia Buchanan was chosen president; Miss Bernadine Shoemaker, and Miss Elizabeth Douglas, secretary and treasurer.

Members of the class include: Misses Meredith Shifferly, Katherine Baumbach, Hazel Van Guntion, Virginia Mosher, Martha Altschul, Mary Berry, Ethel Battenfeller, Juana Burth, Francis Lou Cunningham, Marguerite Hurst, Madeline Kellong, Martha Laughlin, Margaret Wallace, Katherine Moulton, Mary Kerr, Helen Widener, Phyllis Embury, Doris Shaefer and the officers named.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cunningham, W. Spring-st., entertained informally with a family dinner at the Country Club Thursday evening complimenting Mr. and Mrs. Don Cunningham and daughters, Harriet and Mary.

For the pleasure of Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham, Lou Cunningham will entertain with a dinner at the Barr Hotel, Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Van Ostran and daughter, Mildred, and Mrs. and Mrs. E. C. Van Ostran will motor to Akron Saturday where they will visit with F. K. Van Ostran over the week-end.

Miss Ruth Bliman, Shelbyville, Ind., and Miss Eugenia Selby, Marion, will leave for their homes Saturday after visiting here with Miss Pauline Wemmer, W. Market-st.

LEARN A WORD A DAY

TODAY'S word is —
APHORISM. It's pronounced—af-o-riz-m, with accent on the first syllable.

It means—a concise definition or statement of a principle; a pithy sentence stating a general doctrine or truth.

It comes from—a Greek word meaning "to mark off by boundaries," "to define."

It's used like this—"That Labor and Capital can work most effectively as partners is an aphorism which it pays both sides to every strike to bear in mind."

Miss Ruth Finicle, 522 S. Metcalf-st., has returned to her home after visiting with her sister Mrs. W. C. Biorge at Cannon Falls, Minn.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Burke and son, Warren, 1116 Brice-av., accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Gale Meyers, 1136 Richle-av., have returned from a delightful motor trip to Cedar Point and Lakeside.

Miss Eunice Reed, Pomeroy, will return Saturday after visiting here for several days with Miss Ruth Wells, W. Elm-st.

Miss Margaret Murphy, 203 W. O'Connor-av., is home from Lakewood, where she visited with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Armstrong.

Miss Esther Jefferson, Bellefontaine-av., will leave Friday for Columbus, to visit with friends for several days.

The wedding of Miss Grace Lovetta Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Thomas, 1115 Rice-av., to Ernest McElwain, Columbia, S. C., was solemnized Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents. Rev. C. E. Enders, dean of the Biblical College at Defiance, and former professor of the bible, read the ceremony.

Miss Leta Berdith sang "Because" preceding the ceremony, accompanied by Miss Genevieve Pfeiffer, Elida. To the opening bars of Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Miss Pfeiffer, the bride party descended the stairs and took their places under an arch of roses and ferns.

Willis Slusser and Frances Peters, both attired in white, preceded the bride carrying baskets filled with rose petals which they scattered along the bride's path. Then came Martha Leo Peters, in white organza, bearing the wedding ring in the recesses of a lily.

The bride was attired in a gown of white canton crepe and Chantilly lace. Her veil of lace was held in place with a band of orange blossoms.

Following the ceremony a four course dinner was served. Mr. and Mrs. McElwain left Friday for an extended trip and will be at home after September 15th in Palham, Ga., where the bridegroom is an instructor of science in the high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dotsel, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. George P. Glover and daughter, Miss Katharine, Mrs. Lynn B. Timmerman and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wemmer and son, Eugene, have returned from a motor trip to Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer C. Gilliland, Kell-avts, are leaving Tuesday for an eastern trip.

Miss Hope Hollister, chairman of the entertainment committee of the Delta Sigma Sorority, has completed arrangements for the subscription dance to be given Friday evening at McBeth park. The affair is being given to raise funds to carry on the winter philanthropic work of the organization.

Mrs. George Hauck, nee Marjorie Hackadorn, Toledo, is the guest of Mrs. Harold Cunningham, W. Spring-st.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Thomas, W. Spring-st., have returned from a motor trip thru Michigan. They were accompanied home by their daughter, Miss Lois, who has been spending the summer at Fort Austin, Saginaw Bay, Mich.

Miss Lucy Zartman, Jamestown, has returned to her home after visiting here with Mr. and Mrs. Foss Zartman, S. Jameson-av.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Peters and children, W. Spring-st., are home from a motor trip to Grand Rapids, Mich.

Rev. and Mrs. Samuel Huecker, S. Jameson-av., will leave Saturday for Michigan to remain during the month of September.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

SUSIE SMART: I have been going with a young man three years now. He has been very nice to me, but there is something about him that makes me feel that I have not been so good to him. Ever since last week he has turned me down and I have heard that he has been going with another girl. Do you think I should drop him or should I try to persuade him not to go with other girls?

CUTIE: I should say that your writing is very good and your letters are well formed.

Have you ever thought of the fact that this young man of whom you speak is not under obligation to give up his other friends for you? It is only the engaged girl who has the privilege to expect the entire attention of a young man. Three years your senior is not so much older, Cutie, and if I were you and wanted to keep the young man's friendship, I should reciprocate his kindness. By all means do not ask him to give up these other girls because it would necessitate a declaration of love on his part and the forcing of such a statement would possibly mean the breaking of your friendship. Possibly the man has not even thought of love and has considered you just one of his friends. You also, should go with other men and cultivate their friendship. A "one man" plan is not always a good policy for a girl. Treat him as before and be kind and considerate of him and I know you will come out all right.

MISS SMART: We are two girls of 13 and 15 and have been friends for sometime. I like a few boy friends but the ones I like for them. I have brown eyes and light hair and considered rather good looking. Should I dance? I have a problem for you to solve. A year ago I met boy and care a great deal for him and one night I discovered my gold pencil was gone and thinking he had it later, I thought he took it. Six months later I found it and want to apologize. Should I?

PERPLEXED: I understand from your first question that you and your girl friend have had a discussion as to whether or not you should dance. Seemingly girls of 13 and 15 are rather young to be attending dances, unless chaperoned. Never attend a public dance and be sure that the private dances are to be properly chaperoned.

Surely you should apologize for your charge. The young man will possibly be very relieved to know that you have found the pencil. He has known these six months that he has not had the pencil, but had no way of proving it and naturally, if he be of an honest nature, it has preyed on his mind. The old saying is that a person is innocent until proven guilty. You should not have accused the boy in the first place. But apologize to him immediately.

A girl of either 13 or 15 should not go with boys in the sense that the word "go" is used at the present time. To cultivate boys' friendship is perfectly all right but never go out with them in the evenings unless you are properly chaperoned.

SUSIE SMART: I am going to be married in October and want to wear a light blue organdie, trimmed in white. Will it be all right with white slippers and stockings and long white gloves. First tell me what would be the best for the wedding dinner.

BLUE EYES: If you have not already purchased your wedding costume, why not choose a color and material more in keeping with this fall season? A navy or brown suit, with a pretty blouse and a corsage, is ideal for the fall bride, or a frock of dark crepe, crepe-knit or satin is a charming wedding garb. The organdie, with white slippers and gloves is very pretty and if you have decided upon that, carry over your own wishes.

You do not state whether the wedding is to be a morning, evening or church affair, so it is hard to advise you on a dinner. Usually a wedding dinner consists of chicken, either creamed or roasted, potatoes, a vegetable, salad, hot rolls, dessert and wedding cake.

Launching the Marriage Ship

Connie Lost in Whirl Of Giant City

By ZOE BECKLEY

SYNOPSIS
CONNIE has just been married to FRED, auto salesman for the Gypsy Motor Company, whose employees have sent him to New York. Fred's continual talk of his business, even during the honeymoon camping trip, begins to weary Connie.

GO ON WITH THE STORY
Connie's tiny cloud at the way Fred's thoughts of home turned eve toward New York soon passed, drowned out by the big metropolis itself when the Dales arrived in their Gypsy two weeks later.

For hours they drove about the gradually intensifying city before they reached its heart, Automobile Row, where the Gypsy salesrooms and Fred's offices were located.

Members of the selling force who had been notified by President Owens of the Dales' coming, had prepared everything but a home for them. The right hotel had been found, dates for the first few evenings' entertainment made and even several apartment prospects hunted up.

"Be interested in us," ran the company's slogan, "and we'll return the compliment."

It gave Connie a thrill of pride, therefore, in Fred and his employers, when with their arrival at the New York salesrooms the major part of the selling staff turned out for them.

Fred, hazy with pleasurable embarrassment, was introduced to a dozen of his blushing bride.

For the next few days Connie was in an excited whirl. Their room on the eighteenth floor of a marvelous hotel; the exciting hunt for an apartment—Connie's sentimental dream of a white colonial cottage had to be postponed till their plans were more settled, she decided—the heavenly teas and after-theater dancing and jazz; the thrilling swirl and clangor of life in the heart of New York; the giant shops; the seeing-the-town rides on bus tops, peering into second-story windows as they jiggled along by the lovely Hudson's rim; the salesmen friends of Fred's with their suave sophistication; all stirred Connie into a state of mental chaos. She was living at too breathless a pace to form any judgments as yet.

When she did find anything that made her uneasy she sensibly dismissed her misgivings, telling herself everything was in so temporary a state that worry was useless.

It was not till the following Monday Fred's work would begin, and this was only another phase of their honeymoon. It had been Fred's idea to break up their camp five days earlier than they had planned to put them the sooner in New York.

SHE WAS LIVING AT TOO BREATHLESS A PACE TO FORM ANY JUDGMENT AS YET.

"Nothing like being on the ground a few days before actual work starts, eh, Prettiness?" he argued. And Connie could not deny the worthiness of the sentiment.

If there were anything to worry about, she told herself as she lay in her linen-sheeted little twin bed in that tall hotel, she could find it in her heart to wish the Gypsies were not so rapidly becoming the favorite with a certain type of public.

There was something about the car that appealed to the gay, the newly-minted, the sporting, theatrical, extremely sophisticated crowd.

Salesmen, Fred among them, were being coached by the Gypsy Motor Company bulletins to "Show your customers you're a lodge brother. Mix. Be a Roman in Rome. Sell yourself and you sell a Gypsy!"

Something about it sounded ominously to Connie thru her dreams for Fred.

THE RED HOUSE MYSTERY

By A. A. MILNE

"IS THERE A JOKE?" HE ASKED, COLDLY.

Mark had been even more vain, pompous and absurd than usual, and I could see that Miss Norris was irritated by it. After dinner she suggested dressing up as a ghost and frightening him. I thought it my duty to warn her that Mark took any joke against himself badly, but she was determined to do it. I gave way reluctantly. Reluctantly, also, I told her the secret of the passage. "There is an underground passage from the library to the bowling-green. You should exercise your ingenuity, Mr. Gillingham, in trying to discover it. Mark came upon it by accident a year ago. It was a god-send to him; he could drink there in greater secrecy. But he had to tell me about it. He wanted an audience, even for his vices. "I told Miss Norris, then, because it was necessary for my plan that Mark should be thoroughly frightened. Without the passage she could never have got close enough to the bowling-green to alarm him properly, but as I arranged it with her she made the most effective appearance, and Mark was in just the state of rage and vindictiveness which I required. Miss Norris, you understand, is a professional actress. I need not say that to her I appeared to be animated by no other feeling than a boyish desire to bring off a good joke—a joke directed as much against the others as against Mark. "He came to me that night, as I expected, still quivering with indignation. Miss Norris must never be asked to the house again; I was to make a special note of it, never again. It was outrageous. Had he not a reputation as a host to keep up, he would pack her off next morning. "I comforted him. I smoothed down his ruffled feathers. She had behaved very badly, but he was quite right; he must try not to show how much he disapproved of her. And of course she would never come again; that was obvious. And then suddenly I began to laugh. He looked up at me indignantly. "Is there a joke?" he said coldly. I laughed gently again. "I was just thinking," I said, "that it would be rather amusing if you—well, had your revenge. "My revenge? How do you mean?" "Well, paid her back in her own coin. "Do you mean try and frighten her?" "No, no; but dressed up and pulled her leg a bit. Made her look a fool in front of the others. I laughed to myself again. "Serve her jolly well right. "He jumped up excitedly. "By jove, Cay," he cried. "If I could! How? You must think of a way. "I don't know if Beverley has told you about Mark's acting. He was an amateur of all the arts, and vain of his little talents, but as an actor he seemed to himself most wonderful. Certainly he had some ability for the stage, so long as he had the stage to himself and was playing to an admiring audience. As a professional actor in a small part he would have been hopeless; as an amateur playing the leading part, he deserved all that the local papers had ever said about him. "And so the idea of giving us a private performance, directed against a professional actress who had made fun of him, appealed equally to his vanity and his desire for retaliation. If Mark Abbott, by his wonderful acting, could make Ruth Norris look a fool in front of the others, could take her in, and then join in the laugh at her afterward, he would indeed have had a worthy revenge! "How Cay, how?" he said eagerly. "Well, I haven't really thought it out," I protested. "It was just an idea. "He began to think it out for himself. "I might pretend to be a manager, come down to see her—but I suppose she knows them all. What about an interviewer?" "It's going to be difficult," I said thoughtfully. "You've got rather a characteristic face, you know. And your beard—" "I'd shave it off," he snapped. "My dear Mark!" "He looked away, and mumbled. 'I've been thinking of taking it off, anyhow. And besides, if I'm going to do the thing, I'm going to do it properly.' "Yes, you always were an artist," I said, looking at him admiringly. "He putted. To be called an artist was what he longed for most. Now I knew that I had him. "All the same," I went on, "even without your beard and mustache you might be recognizable. Unless, of course—I broke off. "Unless what?" "You pretend to be Robert," I began to laugh to myself again. "By jove!" I said, "that's not a bad idea. Pretend to be Robert, the wastrel brother, and make yourself objectionable to Miss Norris. Borrow money from her, and that sort of thing." "Robert," he said. "Yes. How shall we work it?" "There was really a Robert, Mr. Gillingham, as I have no doubt you and the Inspector both discovered. And he was a wastrel and he went to Australia. But he never came to the Red House on Tuesday afternoon. He couldn't have, because he died (unlamented) three years ago. But there was nobody who knew this, save Mark and myself, for Mark was the only one of the family left, his sister having died last year. "No I doubt, anyhow, if she knew whether Robert was alive or dead. He was not talked about. "For the next two days Mark and I worked out our plans. You understand by now that our plans were not identical. Mark's endeavor was that his deception should last for, say, a couple of hours; mine that it should go to the grave with him. He had only to deceive Miss Norris and the other guests; I had to deceive the world. "When he was dressed up as Robert, I was going to kill him. Robert would then be dead, Mark (of course) missing. What could anybody think but that Mark had killed Robert? But you see how important it was for Mark to enter fully into his latest (and last) impersonation. Half-measures would be fatal. "You will say that it was impossible to do the thing thoroughly enough. I answer again that you never knew Mark. He was being what he wished most to be—an artist. No Othello ever blacked himself all over with such enthusiasm as did Mark. His beard was going anyhow—possibly a chance remark of Miss Norbury's helped here. She did not like beards. But it was important for me that the dead man's hands should not be the hands of a maitre-d'hotel. Five minutes playing upon the vanity of the artist settled his hands. He let the nails grow and then cut them raggedly. "Miss Norris would notice your hands at once," I had said. "Besides, as an artist—" "So with his underclothes. It was hardly necessary to warn him that his pants might show above the edge of his socks; as an artist he had already decided upon Robertson pants. I bought them, and other things, in London for him. Even if I had not cut out all trace of the maker's name, he would have instinctively have done it. As an Australian and an artist, he could not have an East London address on his underclothes. Yes, we were doing the thing thoroughly, both of us; he as an artist, I as a—well, you may say murderer, if you like. I shall not mind now.

"Our plans were settled. I went to London on the Monday and wrote him a letter from Robert. (The artistic touch again.) I also bought a revolver. On the Tuesday morning he announced the arrival of Robert at the breakfast-table. Robert was now alive—we had six witnesses who knew that he was coming that afternoon. Our private plan was that Robert should present himself at three o'clock, in readiness for the return of the golfing-party shortly afterward. "The maid would go to look for Mark, and having failed to find him, come back to the office to find me entertaining Robert in Mark's absence. I would explain that Mark must have gone out somewhere, and would myself introduce the wastrel brother to the tea-table. Mark's absence would not excite any comment, for it would be generally felt—that indeed Robert would suggest it—that he had been afraid of meeting his brother. Then Robert would make himself amusingly offensive to the guests, particularly, of course, Miss Norris, until he thought that the joke had gone far enough. "That was our private plan. Perhaps I should say that it was Mark's private plan. My own was different. (Concluded in Sunday's Issue.)

FLAP-DOODLE AND HIS WAND IN MISCHIEF

By Olive Roberts Barton

So They tiptoed over . . . and pecked in

The next place Nancy and Nick came to on the Tinky-Winkler Star was a great big oven, large enough for you and me and some of our friends to sleep in.

"Sh!" whispered Nancy. "Perhaps Flap-Doodle, the purple fairy is hiding inside and we can get the wand he stole from the Fairy Queen."

So they tiptoed over as softly as velvet mice and pecked in.

But what do you suppose? A meeting they beheld. A meeting of a dozen Tinky-Winklers with big ears and colored a bright orange, all sitting in a circle inside the oven.

"It's an outrage, I call it!" said one Tinky-Winkler, fiercely to his neighbor.

"Worse than that! It's two outrages," said a second. "Just as soon as we got our handsome town-bull built, Flap-Doodle sent us a bill for taxes, as big as a bad sheet. How can we pay them? We've no money left!"

"Yes," said a third Tinky-Winkler. "Ever since Flap-Doodle got that new stick of his that he says is so important, he thinks he can do everything. I wish we could get it."

"We'll help you!" cried Nick.

"We're after Flap-Doodle, too. He stole the Fairy Queen's wand and we're trying to get it. Won't you please come out of the bake-oven so we can talk?"

"Bake-oven! Hear the child," cried a Tinky-Winkler.

"We're insulted!" exclaimed another.

other. "We demand an apology!" thundered a third, and the Tinky-Winklers came tumbling out of their oven like marbles out of a bag. "Well, just look at it!" quipped Nick. "What is it, then?" All the Tinky-Winklers turned and looked. "Goodness!" they gasped. "Flap-Doodle has waved his wand and changed our town hall into a bake-oven. What shall we do?" (To Be Continued) (Copyright, 1922)

PLANNING FOR EXPANSION

State Prepares to Meet Great Irrigation Needs

(By B. C. FORBES)

"Think of it: This whole part of the country was a desert until a short time ago," remarked Editor Fred Eldridge of Los Angeles, as he swept his hand across the place where this city stands.

"The country hereabouts is a natural desert but it has been made into gardens and orchards and vineyards.

"Water has done it—irrigation."

An easterner now living out here in the west told me with great gusto: "All you have to do is turn around your home a to turn on a hose and grow anything you wish."

Those of us who live in the east and have not enjoyed opportunity to travel cannot grasp the part irrigation plays in the west. Irrigation is the very lifeblood of California and other states in the west. Without means to obtain and carry water to be spread over fruit and farmlands, only deserts would bloom.

How much further can California go in obtaining and harnessing water to supply industry and agriculture with the electric power needed to keep them going?

Is the state nearing its maximum possible development industrially and agriculturally?

Can it support twice or several times its present population of approximately three million?

How much more hydro-electric power can be developed and furnished?

Before I came west I had heard little or nothing about the man who was most often mentioned to me in San Francisco—a part, that is, from banking leaders. This man is Wigginton S. Creed, president of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company. Everybody in San Francisco has him marked as one of America's most promising "coners." I talked much with Mr. Creed about the future of electric power, about the raising of necessary capital and even more about the attitude of the capital towards labor and towards the public—Mr. Creed has exceptionally advanced views on what employees, consumers and security holders are entitled to expect and demand from those who run utility companies.

Here are statements made by this public utility giant who is likely to become a national figure:

"Prior to 1900 California was comparatively unimportant as a manufacturing state, but it now produces more manufactured goods than all the other western states combined. This remarkable improvement in industrial position is directly traceable to the California oil industry, which began about twenty years ago to furnish cheap oil, from which cheap power could be developed. In the past, fully sixty per cent of the power used in California has come from oil. But today the oil industry is carrying a burden beyond its capacity and must be relieved.

"California has no coal supply of good quality. The old days of forty cent oil are done. The only sound solution for the power needs of California lies in the development of hydro-electric power.

"The extent to which California can develop industrially with adequate water power is almost without limit. Its geographical position on the Pacific gives it opportunity for trade with Pacific countries.

its population affords the necessary local markets, and it possesses nearly all the basic raw materials. They may be roughly classified as lumber and forest products; agricultural products, fisheries, and mines and minerals including petroleum. These materials for manufacturing, of which perhaps the most important is the product of agriculture, place the state in a position having cheap power, to develop and extend most advantageously the packing, canning, preserving, milling, lumber, chemical, fabric, leather and metal industries and a long list of secondary industries.

"Careful studies indicate that there is possible development in hydro-electric power in California 3,250,000 horsepower, of which only about 1,000,000 horse power (a little over ten per cent) is thus far developed.

"The total maximum horsepower in water in the whole United States is 59,269,000 and in the eleven western states is 42,850,000.

"The combined construction programs of all the California companies contemplate the development of about 2,000,000 horse power in the next ten years. This development, if carried out, will require an expenditure of $500,000,000 to $800,000,000 during the period of construction.

"Will this amount of power be necessary?"

"If growth continues in the future at the same rate it has in the past, the state will require about 100,000 horsepower additional each year. At the present time the users of hydro-electric power are distributed about as follows:

"Lighting, all classes, 13.6 per cent.

"Commercial and industrial power, 45.7 per cent.

"Railway power, 27.8 per cent.

"Total 100.00 per cent.

"Increased demands will come from normal increase in the needs of present uses; the substitution of water power for oil in many branches of industry; new industries, and new uses for power.

"Aside from the demand for water power to displace oil, the greatest use in the future will probably come from the agricultural industry. The best available data indicates that there are 22,000,000 acres of cultivatable land in the state out of a total of 101,800,000 acres. Of the 22,000,000 acres suitable for cultivation, approximately 4,000,000 acres are under cultivation, including all the irrigated lands. At present there is installed for irrigation purposes in the state, a capacity of about 300,000 horsepower. If in the next ten years, as a reflex of the industrial growth of the state, the entire 22,000,000 acres of land be put under irrigation, the power installation required will probably equal about five times the present capacity installed for irrigation purposes."

The future of California will be measured in terms of horsepower from hydro-electric development.

The United States rifle team will leave for the American forces in Europe preparatory to entering the international matches in Milan, Italy.

Pop a little golf ball for the fairway. Look around, look around. The live long day.

Jack Dempsey wasn't allowed by Governor McGray to fight in Michigan City Labor Day with Bill Brennan, but he has the satisfaction of knowing that a little tussle with a sparring partner won't hurt.

In refusing to report to the Car's court spring, Fred Thompson, the giant hurler, evidently surmised St. Louis will win the National League pennant and he fears the prospect of hard world series labor.

Joe Burman is promised a fight with Champion Joe Lynch if he wins Eddie Anderson, Chicago heavyweight, tonight.

Jack Dempsey's troubles include finding of suitable sparring partners. Many of the husky men boys are reluctant to have their jaws used as buffers.

Kay Beach, pitcher in Cairo, Ill., pitched a no-hit, no-run game yesterday, winning 4 to 0.

BREAK CAMP

CAMP PERRY—Adjutant General George Florence and staff broke camp here after having spent six weeks here during the Ohio national encampment.

CIRCUS IS SIGNED TO MIX WITH JAKE GROSS

To Meet In September

K. O. CIRCUS of Pittsburg has been announced as opponent of Jake Gross, local featherweight, for the next fight card to be staged here by the Lima Gym club.

Formalities have not been completed, but the club states they have an agreement with the Smoky City socker to meet the local boy. Contracts will be forwarded soon, it was stated.

The bout will be the main event of a show that will feature about 38 rounds of milling. It will be in 12 rounds. Gross and Circus never met before, although Earl Smith, mentor of the local fighter, has tried many times to entice Circus into a match.

GRANT-BOWSER

A semi-final between Don Bowser and Sailor Grant for the middleweight championship of Lima is tucked up the club's sleeve, but so far there is absence of a definite agreement.

Bowser started recently to get into trim following a layoff of many months. He has been working out at the Club Cigar store and Maxwell gym.

The time is now ripe to spring the Jack Verbyrke-Kid Brown fight, promoters agree. Whether it will be staged by the Gym club is as yet unknown, but fans are clamoring for a match between two of the greatest little boxers who have popped here in a number of years.

Smith announced Gross may not fight again until the Gym card comes. A scrap in Louisville Monday night could not be taken because of a mistake in dates promoters made in a telegram sent here.

No official date for the Gym card has been announced, but it is understood it will be September 18. Application for a permit for the date has been filed with the boxing commission.

SPEAKER SPIKED

NEW YORK.—This Speaker, manager and star outfielder of the Cleveland Indians, was accidentally spiked in the leg by Joe Wood, when both started after the same fly ball in the game with the Yankees, which will force him to be out of the game for a few days.

CHAMP CYCLIST

LANCASTER.—N. J. Waterbury, 76 year old farmer living near here today completed a 1,000 mile bicycle trip to St. Louis, Chicago and return. On the trip, he said he averaged 100 miles a day. Forty years ago Waterbury held a number of bicycle track racing records. He is a vegetarian.

Midget Wonder

EDNA LEONARD

EDNA LEONARD won the 50-yard handicap for midget swimmers at Brighton Beach. Her time was 55 1-5 seconds. Edna's 11 years old. No fish is much more at home in the water than she. Good judges predict that she'll break all national records within a few more years. She's tireless as well as fast and as graceful a little swimmer as ever was seen.

BABY GAR IN LEAD

HAMILTON, Ont.—Averaging 40 1-2 miles an hour and chattering the record for the event, Baby Gar III, owned and driven by Gar Wood, Detroit, captured the first fifty mile leg of the $5,000 Fisher Trophy for displacement boats today. The former record for the distance was 38 3-10 miles per hour made at Miami, Fla., in February, 1912, by Orlo II.

JACK KEARNS HAS TOUGH JOB FINDING DEMPSEY'S CANDY

BY HENRY L. FARRELL.

NEW YORK.—Being as they don't want Jack Dempsey to dig up his old victims and bury them again for profit in the big money zones, the world's heavyweight champion is figuring on going to some other climes to do his stuff.

Jack Kearns, the champion's manager, is back in New York after failing to find a spot for the third reel of the Dempsey-Brennan serial and he says he may be going soon to Cuba or South America if business doesn't get better here.

Speaking of a fight with Harry Wills, Kearns repeats himself: "We're signed and ready. Where are the promoters?"

WANTS JOHNSON
Jim Coffroth, according to Kearns, thinks the fight bugs in Havana would like to see Dempsey against Jack Johnson and if the Cuban public wants the fight, Dempsey is willing to oblige.

South American promoters are also talking about bringing Dempsey down there to fight "Angel."

GENE TUNNEY WINS

PHILADELPHIA—Gene Tunney of New York, former light-heavyweight champion of America, defeated Tommy Loughran of Philadelphia, in an eight round bout at the Philadelphia National League baseball park last night in the opinion of a majority of sport writers at the ringside. Tunney weighed 173 pounds and Loughran was ten pounds lighter.

PICK GREEN'S NET COURT

Green's court, Faurot and Garfield-ays, has tentatively been picked for staging the Y. M. C. A. tennis tournament September 1. Walter England, named as tournament manager, reports he has already received a number of entries.

A program of events has not yet been drawn up, but it is probable it will include a women's section for doubles and singles. Mixed doubles may also be a feature.

The meet will be the paramount tennis event here this season and will be staged in regular tournament style.

England asks that entries be made as soon as possible, as only a week remains until the tourney begins. Notify him at the National Cash Register company office or Physical Director I. G. Maxwell at the "Y."

Young Tennis Star Is Versatile

SAN FRANCISCO.—Helen B. Wills, who was defeated by Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory for the national women's tennis championship, has other activities than playing tennis when she is home in Berkeley, Calif. Her talents run to the artistic and her paintings and drawings have elicited praise.

Miss Wills, who will be 17 years old in October is the daughter of Dr. Clarence A. Wills, a physician of Oakland. He was her first tennis teacher and he admits with pride that he did not give her many lessons before she could defeat him. She has been playing tennis four years.

Miss Wills attended a private school in Berkeley and has been an honor student. She holds many tennis titles on the Pacific coast. She is the Pacific coast and California state women's championship in addition to many district titles.

LOCOS NEED A GAME TO COP

Games postponed from July 1 will be played Saturday by the Lima "Y" league at Faurot park. It was announced Friday. The program calls for an encounter between the Locos and Marshalls, leaders of the loop, and another between the Cranes Luncheon Club team.

If the Locos win it will clinch first place for them and it is doubtful whether other games will be played because there will be no necessity, but if the Marshalls cop, there is a possibility of them trying with the engine builders by winning two other postponed contests on succeeding Saturdays.

In event the Locos defeat the Marshalls tomorrow they will play an all-star team September 2. The double header tomorrow starts at 2 p. m.

CAMP PROGRAM IS CARRIED OUT

The Central High grid camp was established as per schedule Friday at the Boy scout reservation, two miles east of Celina, Coach O. J. Detrick announced.

A number of the 35 boys who listed their names did not leave with the first squad, but will report either Saturday, Sunday or Monday.

Detrick has found the camp site to be in the best of condition. The drinking water is obtained from a drilled well and tests have shown it to be pure.

YANK-BROWN SERIES MAY BE DECISION AFFAIR IN A. L.

NEW YORK.—Twenty hits off three Red Sox pitchers enabled the St. Louis Americans to defeat the Bostonians 13 to 2 and to keep pace with the New York club, which took the final of the Cleveland series 7 to 3. Today the Browns with only half a game lead, and the Yankees in a series at the Polo grounds that may decide the league race.

ADDS SHUTOUT
Walter Johnson, Washington's veteran, added another shutout to his long record, holding the White Sox to five scattered hits and winning 2 to 0. His mound opponent, Blankenship, the allowing but four hits, was hit for two in the second frame, which counted with a stolen base by Shanks and a wild pitch, accounted for the only score.

Detroit and Philadelphia engaged in an extra base hitting contest, Detroit winning 11 to 5. Hellmann, Friday night, Aug. 25th, 7:30 p. m.

Walker, Blue and Hauser hit home runs. Walker's was his thirty-first of the season. Blue added three runs to his long season's string.

GIANTS GAIN
In the National League New York gained another notch on the Cardinals by defeating Cincinnati 2 to 1, with the aid of Jas. Haines' pitching while the St. Louisans were losing a wild scoring game to the Braves, 12 to 11.

The Phillies continued on their winning way, trouncing the Phillies 10 to 4. Alexander held Brooklyn to four hits and the Cubs won their first game in the week, 1 to 1.

LIMA LOCOMOTIVE AT NEW HIGH

General Stock List Drops, However, Near Close

LIBERTY BONDS

NEW YORK—Overnight news developments including possibility of congressional action authorizing the government seizure of the coal mines, resulted in continued irregularity at the opening of today's stock market.

Confused price movements occurred in the rail shares, Union Pacific selling off 1-1/2 with fractional declines taking place in a number of standard issues, while Anaconda and Reading gained substantially. Equipments and independent steels were in good demand, Vanadium rising 1-1/4. Peak prices also were established by Allis Chalmers, Central Leather preferred and Reynolds Tobacco. Domestic oils were strong, Producers and Refiners climbing 2-1/4 points and Phillips petroleum one Mexican oil was under pressure however, Mexican Petroleum and Mexican Seaboard each dropping a point. American Telephone and Marine preferred recovered somewhat from their heaviness of yesterday.

The apparent completion of liquidation of a necessities character paved the way for a rebound through the list with pronounced advances in many stocks. Announcement of price increases for steels and iron products caused an active inquiry for U. S. Steel which advanced approximately one point above the previous high of the year. Lima Locomotive also broke thru to a new top presumably in response to their receipt of orders for forty-five locomotives from the "Katy" system.

Additional new highs were made by Consolidated and Columbia Gas shares. Famous Players common and preferred, Omaha, American Hide and Leather preferred and Manhattan certificates, Mexican Petroleum stock off its early weakness, moving up more than 1-1/2 points above last night's close. Common and preferred stocks of Atlantic Gulf and Chicago and Alton railway were the outstanding weak spots. Call money opened and renewed at 3-3/4.

Increased public buying imparted a strong tone to the early dealings as the stock exchange today. Public utilities were in good demand and there were indications of a reduced floating supply of those stocks. Heavy speculative selling accompanied by week-end profit-taking in the final dealings caused general reactions of 1 to 3 points. Sales approximated 300,000 shares. The closing was heavy.

SHORT SHAVINGS

HARRY N. Osgood, city purchaser, was put on foot when his packard broke down near Toledo.

A fertilizer salesman gave him a life. "I haven't had very good luck picking up strangers," said the salesman. "The other day I stopped to ask the way to a customer's house in the country and the one I asked volunteered to show me as he was headed in that direction. So he climbed in and piloted me into town. When he got out he said he lived just around the corner and that the man I was looking for lived in the fifth house up that street."

"I found later that my pilot took me where he wanted to go and that the man I was looking for lived several miles away in the opposite direction."

"Then, another time recently, I gave two dusty fellows a lift. I forgot that my coat was thrown over the back seat. When they got out they thanked me with such evident appreciation that I said to myself, 'Those are certainly fine fellows. A little rough in exterior perhaps, but nature's noblemen.'"

"When I got home my wife asked me the time and I found my watch had been lifted from my coat pocket. Then I found that my jeweled lodge emblem was gone, too. That wasn't the worst. They even took my pencil!"

Chester Cable, attorney, and brother of John L. Cable, member of Congress, is seeking the person who absconded with his $100,000 Kelly in common pleas court Wednesday.

Cable appeared in court Wednesday to argue a motion. He laid his hat on the bar. After he had finished addressing the court, he started to leave. His hat had left ahead of him. A hat of similar style, but two sizes smaller was left in its place.

"I'm looking for a man wearing a straw hat too large for him," declared Cable. "Has anyone seen him?"

Killis Pesky Bed Bugs P.D.Q.

Just think, a 35c box of P. D. Q. (Pesky Devils Quencher), makes a quart, enough to kill a million bedbugs, roaches, fleas or cooties and stops future generations by killing the eggs and does not injure the clothing.

Liquid form is the best because it is like, bedbugs find no food, clean as a snowball in a quickly faded heat resort. Patent spent free in every garage of P. D. Q. to enable you to kill them and their eggs in the garage. P. D. Q. can also be used in sealed bottles, double strength, liquid form.
